

Huron's police chief suspended

BY HENRY CANTIN

Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore has suspended the township's acting police chief, Christopher Maciolek.

The suspension of Maciolek was made in an official "take-over" of the township's police department last week by Moore.

"A state of urgency in the enforcement of township laws" was cited by Moore as his reason for the suspension of Maciolek, a three-year member of the eight-man police force and acting chief for the last eight months.

Moore suspended Maciolek without formal approval of the township board last Thursday. He reported he sought the advice of Township Attorney Thornton Hopson before taking action.

Overtures have been made to Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch to serve as Huron Township's police chief on a full time basis. Maciolek is a parttime police officer.

Koch, although still on the Romulus police department's payroll, admitted he has been approached by Moore and said he is seriously considering the offer.

Koch's position as police chief was eliminated when Romulus entered into a five-year law enforcement contract with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for 24-hour a day police protection.

The contract, signed in August did not include the police chief but provided for the transfer of the city's police personnel into the Road Patrol Division of the sheriff's department. Since August Koch has been a liaison man between the city and the county on police matters.

Maciolek has questioned Moore's legal authority to suspend him without township board approval. Moore says he feels the board will back him up and agree to his recommendation to appoint Koch. Koch's resignation from Romulus would be required before any official action is taken.

Moore reported he acted because of the reluctance of the township board to act at a meeting held last week.

The matter will be brought up again tonight (Wednesday) when the board holds its regular meeting. Moore announced he will formally request board approval for the appointment of Koch.

In commenting on the suspension of Maciolek, Moore charged that Maciolek "spends too much time on parades and seminars and not enough time on police work." Moore also contended that Maciolek was overspending his police force budget. He cited an August expenditure of about $2,100 while the average monthly expense has been under $1,500.

Maciolek and Township Clerk Mrs. Mary Lou Carey were responsible for the appearance of Apollo 15 Astronauts Col. David R. Scott, Lt. Col. James B. Irwin and Maj. Alfred W. Worden in September to participate in the township's first annual Police and Firemen's Field Day.

In a communication addressed to township citizens, township board police department members and the Huron Clinton Park Authority, Moore said:

"A state of urgency exists in the enforcement of township laws. This urgency exists today and for that reason the directorship of the Huron Township Police Department has been assumed by the supervisor of Huron Township until the urgency is returned to a state of calm."

The supervisor cited that under Michigan statute he has the authority to prosecute in the name of the people of the township whenever necessary. He added that all rank and assignments of police officers as of Oct. 14 have been released and that all officers shall be known as patrolmen, including Maciolek.

Maciolek reported the township has budgeted $40,000 for the police department this year but the board is not "even willing to spend that."

"How can he expect us to follow up on crime and at the same time refuse to give us more money," said Maciolek, who is paid $3.30 hourly for part-time police work.

Moore stated the township is in need of an experienced police executive to run and build up the township force.

"The township has the money to do this and with approximately $10,000 in Emergency Employment Act funds allotted to the township we can design and train our present police personnel," Moore said.

Meeting set to discuss school financial plight

The Romulus Board of Education Monday night agreed to schedule a meeting with residents of the school district to discuss the school district's financial problems and other pertinent issues.

The meeting, tentatively set for Nov. 10 at the Romulus Senior High School, was suggested by the school board when School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy requested the board's directions on the question of renewing the school millage, which is expiring with the 1971 school tax levy.

The school board also was asked for directions on again presenting to the district's electorate a school building bond issue.

Voters rejected two bond issues totaling $12.9 million at the June 14 school election.

McConeghy reported that 10 mills of the current operating millage of 27.9 mills per $1,000 of state equalized assessed property valuation expires with the payment of the 1971 school tax levy.

Of the 27.9 tax levy, 19 mills is voted and 8.9 mills is allocated by the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board.

The 10 mills expiring this year, based on present property valuation of the school district, represent operating revenues of $1.5 million or about 25 per cent of the present operating budget of the district, McConeghy reported.

He also reported that all classes are now filled. The 1971 student enrollment based on the fourth Friday count is at an all time high of 6,339, an increase of 492 over the 1970-71 student enrollment.

The school board, in scheduling the general discussion session, announced the busing issue, court litigation initiated by the Atty. Gen. Frank E. Kelley testing the constitutionality of financing public school education with property taxes, financial needs of the school district, including the question of millage renewal and bond issues, will be taken up.

The board announced if it gets a commitment from citizens attending the meeting then it will proceed with the setting of an election date on the millage renewal.

More funds slated by county to be used to hire unemployed

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners Thursday approved a third Emergency Employment Act funding which should give five area municipalities—Belleville, Romulus and Huron Sumpter and Van Buren townships—nearly $93,000 in extra funds to be used to hire unemployed persons.

like two previous grants, it allocated to the 39 municipalities which had not received direct grants from the federal government.

Romulus will receive the largest sum of the five local municipalities—$47,879.95. It is slated to get $27,005.47 and $34,137.21 from two previous grants. It has an estimated 6.8 per cent unemployment.

The Township of Van Buren is scheduled to get another $28,138.68 on top of the $15,870.91 in the first grant and $23,633.45 it is to share with Belleville for the second grant.

Only municipalities with an unemployment figure of more than 6 per cent received the second allocation.

The first $797,000 allocation was based on an unemployment rate for the county of 4.3 per cent. County officials charged the rate was unrealistic, and another $698,500 was received to be distributed among 15 communities which had an unemployment rate of 6 per cent.

After Gov. Milliken prevailed upon the Michigan Employment Security Commission to run a card-by-card check of the county's unemployment, an actual rate of 6.2 per cent was established, and the third allocation announced.

Belleville will get $5,008.98 additional to the $2,825.19 it got from the first grant. Van Buren Township and Belleville combined have an unemployment figure of 6.9 per cent.

Huron Township should receive another $5,892.92 on top of the $3,323.75 it got in the first grant, while Sumpter Township should receive an additional $5,966.58 to its first $3,365.29 allocation.

The latest allocation was reported to the board after Gov. William G. Milliken intervened on behalf of the county following the board's charges that Wayne County was shortchanged by more than $3.5 million in Emergency Employment Act funds.

The county was allocated another $1,414,300 to use for hiring the unemployed, which,

Company sues Romulus over 1971 tax payment

The City of Romulus has been named defendant in a civil suit filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by Don McCullagh, Inc., of 30803 Little Mack Ave., Roseville.

The bill of complaint seeks a court judgment against the city calling for the payment of 1971 real estate taxes paid under protest, plus interest.

The amount of taxes paid under protest on Sept. 28 was $5,320.65.

The court litigation initiated by Attorney David S. Aronow charges the 1971 tax assessment on Romulus property owned by the plaintiff violates the constitution of the State of Michigan because the assessment exceeds 50 per cent of the true cash value of the property.

The suit also charges that the equalization procedure is discriminatory on taxpayers property and contrary to law and that the property of the taxpayer is not assessed uniformly by the city.

The property involved in the court suit is about 40 acres of land located on the west side of Wickham Road, between Smith and Wick Roads.

The city has 20 days from Oct. 15 to file its reply to the charges detailed in the suit. The firm's suit states the property has been assessed at a valuation of $269,400 for the 1971 year with a state equalized valuation of $425,652.

The valuation and assessment set by the city was appealed to the Romulus Board of Review as being greatly in excess of the proportion of true cash value represented by the existing ratio of assessment for property taxes in the city. This appeal was denied by the board. An appeal on this decision by the company is pending before the Michigan State Tax Commission.

"The said valuation and assessment for the year 1971 represents excessive, discriminatory and unlawful assessment of plaintiff's property," the suit states.

Romulus homecoming Friday

Romulus Senior High School will observe this year's homecoming with a week-long program of activities.

Homecoming Day this Friday will be highlighted by a football game between Romulus Senior High School and Willow Run High School, starting at 3 p.m. in Romulus. Along with the crowning of the 1971 homecoming queen and the school's traditional parade.

The theme of this year's homecoming is "Wonderful World of Fantasy."

The annual homecoming parade will begin at 1 p.m. Friday at Grant Road and Olive Street near the school district's administration building.

The parade will proceed down Olive Street and Goddard Road to Wayne Road, then to the high school football field.

Parade floats will be entered by each of the four high school classes and various high school clubs and also by the junior high school for the first time this year.

During the game's half-time festivities trophies will be presented for the best class float, best club float and the annual "spirit jug" will be presented to the class showing the most class spirit during Homecoming Week.

The five finalists vying for homecoming queen are Patti Block, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delton Block of 9684 Tobine Rd., Romulus; Debbie Chrisman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chrisman of 34927 Eureka Rd., Romulus; Joyce Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry C. Gray of 35246 Beverly Rd., Romulus; Jill Haislip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Haislip of 30926 Ecorse Rd., Romulus; and Diane Silvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Silvey of 36831 Porter St., Romulus.

The week-long program of activities included a tug-of-war held at 4 p.m. Monday in Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville, and an obstacle race held from 7 to 9 p.m., Tuesday.

Today (Wednesday) a scavenger hunt will be held near the high school and tomorrow a circle and cheering contest will be held at the high school.

In addition a toy drive will be conducted with students from the high school classes competing.

Festivities set for entire week

Five Romulus projects given second priority

Five projects in Romulus have been assigned second-priority by a 35-member committee appointed to determine priorities for applying for millions of federal dollars.

Six projects in Wayne County-four in Detroit, one in Dearborn and one in Inkster-have won top priority to apply for U.S. Economic Development Administration funds.

The Romulus projects were five of 16 which were assigned second priority in the county. Seven others are in Taylor, two in Dearborn, one in Inkster and one in Westland.

The priorities were designated by a 35-member citizens committee on Oct. 21.

Appointed by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, it was set up to help draft development plans to qualify the county and 43 cities and townships within it for EDA grants.

The EDA program provides 50 per cent of the financing cost of approved public works and other projects which will create jobs. Areas with unemployment rates of six per cent or more were eligible to apply.

Romulus' projects receiving second priority are the Wahrman Road water main, Pennsylvania Road water main, Middlebelt Road water extension and watermeter pit, Northline Road sanitary sewer extension and Romulus Public Safety Building.

HOMEcoming HOPEFULS — These five attractive Romulus High School students are anxiously awaiting Friday's homecoming game for a very special reason — they are all homecoming queen candidates. Vying for the crown and the privilege to reign over the Romulus-Willow Run football game are (from left) Patti Block, Diane Silvey, Joyce Gray, Jill Haislip and Debbie Crisman. The queen will be announced at half-time.

Women prisoners will be moved to County General Hospital

As soon as the renovations can be completed, the county's 50 female prisoners currently housed in Wayne County Jail in Detroit will be moved to Wayne County General Hospital in Westland.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners yesterday voted 17-0 with four abstentions to approve the shift following renovations of one of the hospital's wings, which is not to exceed $90,000.

The board, already plagued with financial troubles which may result in a more than $5 million deficit in this year's budget, was stunned to hear a report from Frank Wilkerson, Wayne County jail administrator, informing members it will cost anywhere between $60,000 to $90,000 to transform the hospital wing into suitable jail facilities.

It wasn't only the amount which shocked the members, but the estimated six to eight weeks it will take to complete the renovation.

The board, under court order to renovate the jail, had pledged to begin the improvement Nov. 1. In order to accomplish this, prisoners in the jail have to be shifted, and one of the methods of removing the prisoners centers on getting rid of the female prisoners, numbering about 50, and replacing them with male prisoners.

Board members were apparently not informed until yesterday about the estimated costs of renovating the hospital, and later questioned the need of renovating it at all until Wilkerson filled them in. The jail administrator explained the wing consists of one large room and that partitions would have to be erected, along with sanitary facilities, to separate the women prisoners, whom he described as "hardened."

Ed Bresnahan, building director for the county's board of auditors, said the possibility had not been looked into. The board, it appeared, was anxious to approve the proposal and lessen the court pressure already on it.

Among the commissioners voting in favor of the proposal were James R. McCartney (D-25th), John N. Sabo Jr. (D-24th), John J. McCann (D-26th), John Lesinski (D-20th) and James DeSana (D-23rd).

McCartney, whose district encompasses most of Westland, and Wayne County General Hospital, said after the meeting he favored the idea because the present county jail must be renovated as quickly as possible and he did not want to see the court rule the board in contempt for inaction on the renovations.

He said he could perceive of a fight erupting and possibly more serious trouble if the women were housed in one large room and women security guards asked to watch them.

Wilkerson went so far as to suggest the women could either begin a fight or take one of the guards hostage, leaving the administrators with little recourse.

"It could endanger the lives of the policemen and inmates by moving them all into one room," he said.

Several commissioners had questioned why the women could not be housed in Detroit's Herman Kiefer Hospital, which, they said, had separate rooms which would eliminate the need for the costly renovations. They also contended it would be cheaper since the prisoners would not have to be transported as far to courts in Detroit.

Parents-to-be classes are set

Every woman and her husband are at least a little worried as they approach parenthood for the first time.

To help prepare people for their new experience as parents, the Wayne County Department of Health announces two series of classes for expectant parents.

One series of classes will be held at the Wayne County Health Center, on Merriman Road, one-quarter of a mile north of Michigan Ave., beginning Wednesday, Nov. 3 and the other series at the Bates Elementary School, 22811 Gudith, Woodhaven, beginning Monday Nov. 8.

The classes will meet from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. once a week for six consecutive weeks and will be conducted by public health nurses from the Wayne County Department of Health.

Members of the group will discuss those questions and concerns which are of common interest to expectant parents, including growth of the baby, care of the mother during pregnancy, labor and delivery, and care of the newborn infant.

Since the size of the group will be limited, interested persons are urged to register as early as possible.

For registration or further information, call the Wayne County Department of Health, 274-2800, extension 6901, any weekday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Doctor describes factors causing heart disease

More than 200 men and women, many of them elderly and some walking with canes, came through rain and mist to hear two physicians and a dietitian talk about diet, risk factors of heart attack and high blood pressure at Belleville Senior High School Thursday night.

This session sponsored by the Southern Wayne County Unit of the Michigan Heart Association and the Belleville Enterprise, began at 7:30 p.m. but ran until 10 p.m. because the speakers stayed until they had answered the last question.

One of the members of the audience remarked that "It was really good... they did not make speeches at us but talked as though we were sitting across a table from them."

Dr. William Hailer of the Trenton Osteopathic Clinic compared man's arteries to the plumbing in a building, explaining "You only get one set of pipes for one life. Take care of yours-your arteries and veins - it will pay off for you, believe me."

He explained that blood, like water in a building, must have pressure to go through the arteries to all parts of the body. He added that blood pressure normally varies a great deal with factors such as time, fatigue, nervous stress, including the stress of visiting a doctor's office to have your blood pressure checked, and position, such as standing, sitting or lying down.

"However it varies, the higher it is, the more damage it does to health and the more it shortens life," he said. He emphasized that "Americans eat too much fat and too much salt. Only four grams of salt a day is necessary for life."

Mrs. Diane Batch, dietitian at Trenton Hospital, commented that man, "as a nutritionist, is terrible. He is indifferent to the basic needs of his body."

A great many people suffer a great deal of ill health because of this, she added.

Dr. S. Phillip Grillo of Belleville led the audience in playing "Risko," a game designed to emphasize the importance of risk factors in keeping a healthy heart, especially the preventable risk factors such as smoking, lack of exercise and a high fat diet. Most members of the audience left their scores with the heart hostesses and these will be counted later.

Townhouse site plan approved

A revised site plan for the proposed Lake Pointe Village, a 94-unit townhouse complex at Rawsonville Road and Huron River Dr., Van Buren Township, has been approved by the township planning commission.

The site plan was submitted by Shelter Systems Inc. at a special meeting held before the planning commission on Oct. 20.

The firm's representatives, Charles Corp and Less Taubman, presented the site plan with suggestions from the planning commission and planning consultants of the township incorporated in the site plan.

The proposed development will consist of 12 buildings which will have 28 two-bedroom units and 66 three-bedroom units. Prices will range from $27,000 to $29,000, they reported.

The land parcel the complex will be built on consists of 7.7 acres. Before construction can start, the site plan must be approved by the township building department inspector.

Group requests support

The Huron Township Citizens Committee, an affiliated chapter of the National Action Group (NAG), is distributing in Huron Township opinion petitions requesting residents of the township to ask Michigan legislators to support House Joint Resolution 620.

The petition cites two sections of the resolution. They are:

"Section One. No public school student shall, because of race, creed or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school.

"Section Two. Congress shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

If anyone is interested in giving support to this resolution, they are requested to contact committee co-chairmen Mrs. Olga McDavid at 782-2227 or Mrs. Doris Hartsuff at 753-4346.

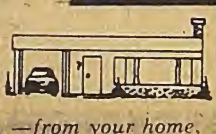

"We must unite and join forces to help keep the concept of the neighborhood school," Mrs. McDavid said in commenting on the petition drive.

She also reported that three current members of the Huron Board of Education speaking as private citizens support the anti-busing drive of the committee. They are Leo Kyko, L. Charles Larabell Jr., and Lee Betz.

With Cory PTA funds

Peruvian school project finished

By BEVERLY MCANALLY

A SCHOOL-TO-SCHOOL PARTNERSHIP — Parents and school officials at Camacani, Peru, read American newspaper accounts of their school-to-school partnership exchange between their community and the Cory Elementary School of Romulus. Jan Rus, a Peace Corps volunteer, was the liaison representative between the two schools.

The construction portion of an international school building and information exchange project initiated by the Cory Elementary School PTA two years ago with a Peruvian village has been completed, according to Jan Rus, Peace Corps volunteer and liaison between the two schools.

In a recent correspondence received by Mrs. Fran Petre, chairman for the school-to-school project, final construction details on the new school were finished on Sept. 14.

The occasion was celebrated by the villagers both as the founding date of the school and as the date the Peruvian government granted the village of Camacani official recognition, an honor earned by very few altiplane communities.

The fiesta included the presentation of the completed school building project, partially funded by the Cory PTA through its contribution of nearly $1,000. Rus also presented the village elders with an album of pictures of Cory children along with some of their work.

The celebration was attended by school, government, military and community leaders who shared in speech-making to honor the occasion.

According to Rus, the people of the village have been enthralled by the things sent by the Romulus school group. The parents have been even more amazed than the children. They found it hard to believe that samples of art work sent to Peru could have been done by mere primary school students. The Camacani children immediately began to make similar objects.

They also were fascinated by newspaper accounts telling of their village and the exchange program, and were proud to think their efforts were recognized outside their immediate surroundings.

"Camacani is a name that is heard internationally," said one of the community leaders with great pride and dignity, Rus reported.

Because the Ruses have completed their tour of volunteer duty with the Peace Corps and will be returning to the United States, they have left the completed building project and a balance of $10 from Cory's original contribution in the hands of the community.

Father James Madden, an American priest who lives in Camacani, assisted by Art Davidson, Peace Corps volunteer in Puno, Peru, will keep the information exchanges continuing, because, Rus stated, the people themselves would be too shy to reply, even though they love hearing from their American friends and have spent long periods of time looking at the things sent by the Cory group.

PERUVIAN FOLK DANCER — A Camacani Peruvian folk dancer practices for interdistrict competition, wearing a "chullo" or knitted hat that is traditional headgear for the Andean natives. Boys and girls of the Cory Elementary School, Romulus, have received a chullo as part of an exchange program coordinated through the Peace Corps.

Local Jaycees' groups ponder unicameralism

The Michigan Jaycees have gone on record in support of a petition drive to put the unicameral question (one house Michigan legislature) to a vote of the people of Michigan.

The drive for a one-house governing body is being spearheaded by State Rep. Joseph P. Swallow (R-Alpena). He needs 300,000 signatures to get the drive off the ground.

Local presidents of the Jaycees at Belleville, Huron and Romulus are considering whether or not to endorse the concept which Swallow reports will not only save the state several millions of dollars but will also serve to increase legislative results.

Sam Villa, president of the Belleville Jaycee Club, announced Monday his club is waiting for further developments before taking any official stand. Some questions raised at a recent meeting of state Jaycee vice presidents held at Marquette have yet to be answered.

Andrew Nagy, president of the Huron Jaycee Club, said the Belleville Jaycees are holding up any official action on the question pending clarification of the one-house type of legislation by the state body of the Jaycees.

Jerry Johnson, president of the Romulus Jaycee Club said:

"Much controversy is currently developing around the stand the Michigan Jaycees have taken on the question of one-house government, known as the unicameral issue.

"We Jaycees are glad to have an opportunity to try to express our views, so that the general public can become more aware of this situation.

"First we should clarify that the Jaycees are only supporting the placing of the question on a ballot. We want to make the decision available to the public through their voting machines. If we can accomplish this, then and only then can the process of education on the issue begin. One has only to start a discussion on the world unicameral to find out very few people have any understanding of what it is at all.

"Certainly our legislators are well versed in its meanings but they, without public understanding, can only decide based on their feelings, not yours or mine. So then education is one important phase of our discussion to put support behind this question on the ballot.

"Another factor in our decision is reform. Reform of a system while it is still the best in the world, needs modification and refinement to live and work in a new time and age. We feel far too much time is spent in battling issues back and forth when help is in urgent need. We feel that our system must change to allow more responsiveness to our needs when and where they exist."

vices are combined with facilities being used by domestic airlines.

The new terminal is the first phase of a planned $70 million expansion program for the airport. Other projects in this expansion program are expansion of baggage handling facilities to improve the flow of luggage from the big jumbo jets.

Both the north and south ends of the existing terminal are involved in the expansion, with construction cost estimated at $3.3 million.

Also included in the expansion plan and already started is the construction of a new deck on the airport's parking facility. A parking ramp will also be constructed next to the existing parking facility, resulting in an additional 2,000 parking spaces. Revenue bonds are financing the cost of improvements.

the Wayne County Road Commission, in presenting a progress report about redevelopment programs presently underway at the airport, said the new international terminal will be built north of the present terminal complex.

Attending the groundbreaking ceremonies and luncheon were Mayor Hule J. Carmichael of Romulus, Charles W. Hazen, director of planning and development for Romulus, City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar and City Treasurer Albert Glinski.

The starting time for the construction of the new terminal is set for May, 1972 and approximate completion date is December, 1973.

The new terminal will separate domestic and international services, Berry said. Currently both international and domestic ser-

Sen. Griffin is fighting the odds against his re-election

By DON HOENSHELL

U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin has thought it all over and will seek re-election next year against odds that would paralyze a lesser spirit.

He needs more dollars and more dedicated Republicans than exist in Michigan right now.

Griffin is in that stage where almost anything that happens will improve his position, a pre-campaign condition that is cherished by some political leaders.

Michigan Republicans, realizing the peril to their lone U.S. Senate seat, are being counseled to keep Griffin's future misty with speculation until later.

But privately they are planning on a campaign for Griffin, discarding all the talk of an appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court, President Nixon's cabinet or other diversions.

Griffin is hedgehopping around the state as time permits to prop up Republican hopes and energies, a tour which in early October to Evart, a town of 1,775, Osceola county.

There he addressed a Republican dinner served by the high school Band Boosters Club and left the impression he was announcing his candidacy for re-election with these words: "If I lose the next election, the Republican party in Michigan will be in very serious condition. If we work hard, we'll have at least one Republican senator (Griffin) from Michigan."

National Committeewoman Ranny Reicher said it was not an announcement, that Griffin is being very careful to avoid it right now.

That's because of the social quirk which converts a wise and energetic incumbent of the highest stature into a grasping politician the moment he announces his candidacy for anything.

Newspapers weigh his words in political terms and the television cameras suddenly develop statesmanship enforced by the Federal Communications Commission.

So Republicans and Griffin would like to wait a spell before cutting off all the goodies.

National polls state that most of the new 18-year-old vote will be Democratic, though others in Michigan give Griffin a 3 per cent edge among the new voters.

Gov. William Milliken and other party chiefs here concede that Michigan has more Democrats than Republicans and for Griffin to win he'll need a sizeable chunk of the independent vote and some Democrats.

The Democrats are likely to oppose Griffin with Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, a 10-year veteran in the political spotlight who enjoys a statewide political base and, seemingly, has everything going for him.

So what is the chore for Republicans?

The party is still running a deficit crowding $700,000, down only $44,000 from the red ink level after the 1970 election. Griffin will need $1 million to $1.5 million in 1972.

"We're grateful for almost anything," said Mrs. Riecker. "All you do now is scrounge for nickles and dimes."

On Nov. 6, there will be 13 Birthday Salute to Bob Griffin dinners outstate and one for the Detroit area at the Raleigh House in Southfield, all to raise Republican money.

The prices will range from $25 in the smaller areas to $50 and $100 a plate in metropolitan areas and to $150 for the Detroit area dinner.

"You name your price range and will find you a dinner," Mrs. Riecker said.

Griffin's problem, too, lies in his closeness to President Nixon. Republican conservatives are enraged by the president's impending trips to mainland China and Russia. The economy in Michigan, including the wage-price freeze, will work against him.

Griffin's anti-busing stand in Detroit area schools will pick up vast support for him in the suburbs while the question is in doubt in the ghetto sections of Detroit.

So those are some of Griffin's problems.

But in 1966 he came from relative obscurity as a 10-year member of congress to take on probably the most popular Democrat in state history, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and defeat him.

Griffin wasn't damaged at all by the ride on the coattails of former Republican Gov. George Romney, but his own campaign was energetic and effective.

So Griffin will have to do it again, against even more difficult odds.

In our opinion

Personality clashes hinder government

Lack of team work among elected government officials of any community hinders the progress and future development of that community.

To differ with one another in matters of legislative and administrative responsibilities is an inherent right of not only those chosen by the electorate but also all citizens.

Issues of opinion must be better discussed and understanding of one's viewpoint or stand on current issues involving his community's affairs and ultimately lead to a decision for the betterment of all phases of community living.

But when these differences are strictly based on personal and selfish reasons or because of one's dislike for others, invariably it results in lack of formal action.

On the local scene recently we have witnessed instances of "belaying" actions that certainly indicated lack of team work and cooperation. Even personality clashes were evident in the handling of government business and related matters.

It behooves one to remember that unity and cooperation among those who are given the responsibility of government is one of the major essentials for good and strong municipal government.

Citizens should and can help by being alert in seeing that elected officials have upmost in their deliberations the best interests of the community which they serve.

Everything's chaos after a vacation

NEW YORK — If you want to know on what flimsy foundations your life is built, all you have to do is take a two-week vacation.

You'd think your household and job could coast along without you for at least that long, but what do you find when you return? You find everything in chaos.

To itemize a few of the minor and major disasters:

Speaking of schools

Grant approved for Romulus schools

Speaking of Schools
By MRS. LORENA G. BURTON
Federal and State Coordinator
Romulus Community Schools

Robert L. McConeghy, superintendent of schools, has received official notification from the superintendent of public instruction that the State Board of Education has determined an allocation of $192,600 for the Romulus Community School District under section 3, public act 312, for the fiscal year 1971-1972.

The district must identify and provide services for 963 low-achieving pupils. Of this number, 735 must be enrolled in grades K-4, and the remaining 228 pupils in grades 5 and 6.

Section 3 funds must be used to supplement existing programs and instruction, and cannot be used to supplant funding of regular instructional activities. Section 3 children may be identified and selected in each of the elementary schools in the district.

This grant will enable the school district to plan added instructional programs designed to improve student achievement in basic cognitive skills, such as in reading and-or arithmetic.

The Romulus Community School District will be eligible for allocations from Section 3 for the fiscal year 1971-1972 and for each of the following two fiscal years, provided that the objectives required by the state department are met.

In order to meet the requirements of the State Department of Education, the following procedures must be followed:

- (1) Pupils to be served must be identified.
- (2) Performance objectives for the basic skills which can be evaluated must be developed.
- (3) A plan for comparability must be developed by the district.
- (4) Parents, teachers, and administrators must be involved in the comprehensive planning, development and evaluation procedures.

After being informed by the state consultant of the tremendous task of developing worthwhile programs to meet the needs of eligible pupils in the district, as federal and state coordinator for the district, with the approval of the superintendent of schools, I planned an in-service workshop session which was held for one full day.

The workshop involved the elementary and junior high principals, executive members of the Romulus Community Schools, and members of the Compensatory Policy Advisory and Continuing

Local country music group gets applause

To the editor:

Nashville, Tenn., has its "Grand Ole Opry Hall of Fame" for country music but Romulus has its own Neal Krane and his Countrymen Band perform and country music was never so good as it is in this area.

Music that's wholesome, right down-to-earth, folk get-togetherness kind of music is what Neal Krane puts out. He's got talent, heart and hospitality that makes you want to keep going back for more.

In observance of "Country Music Month" which is celebrated in October I'd like to honor Neal Krane for our own "Grand Ole Opry Hall of Fame" award.

Belleville couple applauds performers

To the editor:

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17, a group of music lovers gathered at the Bethany Baptist Church in Belleville for a program entitled "An Autumn Afternoon of Music," presented by pianist Cindy Hook, ably assisted by special guest violinist Pam Elliot.

These two charming and talented performers, both seniors at Belleville High School, are to be congratulated for an outstanding performance. Cindy's selections ranged from classics to popular, concluding with two spiritual numbers, one of which was her own composition, and Pam chose Movements 1 and 2 of Bach's "Concerto in A-Minor" and the theme song from "Sound of Music."

Homecoming begins tomorrow

The annual Homecoming festivities at Huron High School, New Boston, will begin tomorrow (Thursday) with a Homecoming parade starting at 5 p.m.

The parade will start at Sterling Road and continue down Huron River Drive through New Boston where a reviewing stand will be set up for the judging of the floats.

The float competition this year will be among six groups, the journalism class, the faculty and the four classes in the high school. The winning float will receive a prize of $20.

The parade will feature the junior and senior high school bands, cheerleaders, the homecoming court, student council officers, the school administration, and the Huron Township Fire and Police Departments.

During the half-time ceremonies of the Airport High School and Huron High School football game, School Superintendent Bryon K. Antcliff will introduce the 1971 Homecoming Court and last year's queen, Miss Cheryl Passini Umin will crown the new queen.

The queen will be selected from the five finalists, all seniors: Charlene Deigel, Lawana Frazier Kelly, Cindy Gorkiewicz, Denise Miller and Kathy Radabaugh.

Scouts' dues frozen, increase was mistake

The wage-price freeze is having an effect on a lot of people these days and now it's involving the children of this area.

Local Girl Scouts learned this week that their national membership dues, which were raised from $1 to $2 per year on Sept. 1, are covered by the freeze and should not have been increased.

The dues increase, which was authorized by the national delegate council of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. in 1969, was the first increase for the organization since 1946.

All funds from the membership dues are used to finance the national Girl Scout organization and none remains in the local council.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council is funded by 12 United Funds and Community Chests and gifts of individuals.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness in Washington, D.C. has advised the Girl Scouts that all girls and adults who have already paid dues at $2 since Sept. 1 are entitled to a credit of 20 cents toward their next year's dues, if they desire.

According to the Office of Emergency Preparedness, this 20-cent amount was arrived at by determining that an overpayment had been made on the second dollar for that period of the freeze during which the dues increase was in effect, Sept. 1 to Nov. 13. This period is equivalent to one-fifth of a year, or in other words, 20 cents of the second dollar.

Individuals having already paid the $2 are encouraged to consider the 20 cents as a gift to the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

Any girl or adult who has dues to be paid before the end of the freeze period and who elect to pay only $1 will be a member in good standing and will not be subject to an additional assessment after the freeze.

All members registering during this period are encouraged to pay $2 with the understanding the additional amount is a gift to the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

According to Mrs. James A. Kennedy, Ann Arbor, president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, this decision of the Office of Economic Opportunity could have serious implications for the national organization. "We know it is not the intent of the federal government to jeopardize the future of a movement of four million members," she said, "but the implications are very serious."

On the basis of the anticipated increased dues, the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. has incurred deficits totaling more than $5 million, she said. Included in this amount is an accident insurance policy for the entire membership of four million members.

In addition, a number of new projects are underway for which substantial funds have already been spent in anticipation of the dues increase.

Huron watershed council to discuss recreation area

The Huron River Watershed Council will hold its October meeting tomorrow Thursday, in Brighton High School, Brighton, beginning at 8 p.m.

The main item on the council's agenda will be a discussion of the plans for development of the Island Lake State Recreation Area. Other agenda topics will be staff and executive committee reports and discussion of a council position statement on the new Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority plans for a new Metropark on Mill Creek in Washtenaw County.

As with all council meetings, Thursday's session is open to the public.

The possibility that the Michigan Department of Natural Resources will dam the Huron River to create a recreation lake in the state's Island Lake land has been given a great deal of attention in the past few months. While no formal public announcement of the state's intentions has been made, preliminary plans have been developed. These plans are now being reviewed by the state.

The Island Lake Recreation Area is located in Green Oak Township, in southeastern Livingston County. Kensington Metropark, developed and operated by the HCMA, lies just up-stream from the state recreation area.

"We are sure the state is being very thorough in its analysis of the desirability of developing a major park facility at Island Lake," said Warren Miller, executive secretary of the Watershed Council. "Nevertheless, we are very concerned about the possible effects of the proposed lake on the Huron River. Many other groups are

HOMEcoming QUEEN FINALISTS — Huron High School's Homecoming Day is Friday, and one of the highlights will be the crowning of the homecoming queen during half-time ceremonies of the football game between Huron High and Airport High School. Four of the five finalists vying for the

What will this Halloween be—happy trick-or-treat or tragedy?

What will it be this Halloween in Michigan, trick-or-treat — or tragedy?

If you're driving your car Oct. 31, the answer can be largely in your hands, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Halloween is a popular holiday. Nearly all of the state's approximately 1,835,000 elementary school children will become trick-or-treaters for a few hours, romping through their neighborhoods with little on their minds but the next treat.

The institute reminds that while it can be a joyous time for kids, it is also potentially dangerous for them.

"At no one time in year are more children wandering through the streets at night barbed in vision-impairing masks and dark, difficult-to-see costumes," said the institute.

"We urge all motorists to think fast and drive slowly — and carefully on All Hallows' Eve. The kids are bent on fun. Don't put a morgue in their merrymaking."

The institute offered the following safety tips to motorists and parents of trick-or-treaters:

To motorists — Drive slowly and warily. Watch for children darting out between parked cars. Tap your horn occasionally on dimly-lighted residential streets. Be extremely cautious while backing out of driveways.

To parents — Escort your littlest ones. If your children are going as a group, give the oldest a flashlight. Dress the kids in bright clothing or stick reflective tape on their costumes or trick-or-treat bags. Use a scissors to widen the eye holes in their masks.

Urge them to look up and down before crossing.

Adults who do their own merrymaking at Halloween parties are reminded that drinking and driving don't mix.

"Remember," the institute said, "that Halloween is a fun time for children. In all the excitement, they're not likely to be thinking of safety. You — the motorist — have to do their thinking for them."

"If children's Halloween antics remind you that you were a kid once yourself, drive in a manner to ensure that some child will grow old enough to say the same."

Farmers to elect county members

Full details are now available to Wayne County farmers on the upcoming election of ASC committee members, according to Arthur Monks, chairman of the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

ASC community committee elections this year will be held Dec. 1.

The ballots farmers will use to elect three regular members and two alternates to ASC committees will be mailed on about Nov. 18. A special effort is being made to make sure every eligible voter in the county receives a ballot.

"We would like farmers to voice their choice for good committee candidates who will effectively serve all the farmers in their community without regard to race, color, creed, sex or national origin," Monks said.

"For more than 35 years the farmer-elected ASC committee system has functioned under democratic principles. These grassroot committees are comprised of, function for, and are run by farmers who live and work in the area," Mr. Monks said.

"If the system is to remain effective, not only must dedicated farmers be willing to serve on the committees, but all Wayne County farmers should be willing to nominate and elect responsible people to fill the committee posts," he added.

He explained that after the community committees are elected, three delegates from each newly-elected committee attend a county convention to fill vacancies on the County ASC committee. The county committee makes all local farm program decisions and works with community committees in carrying out various ASCS programs.

A farm owner, tenant, or sharecropper, 18 years or older, is eligible to vote if he can participate in any ASCS program administered in the community where his farm is located. If he is not of legal voting age, he may vote in the ASC election if he supervises and conducts the farming operation on an entire farm.

Monks said any practicing farmer who has not received a ballot by Nov. 18 should apply for it at the County office.

A list of known eligible voters in Wayne County is available for inspection at the County ASCS Office, located at 3716 Newberry St., Wayne.

1971 ALSAC crusaders raise $250,000 in area

The 1971 Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children (ALSAC) Teen Crusaders went over the top with $250,000, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris of 25224 Philmore Ave., Taylor, campaign director for the Romulus area, announced.

More than 22,000 teenagers hit the streets of the greater Detroit areas and collected this amount in a house-to-house canvass on Sept. 19 and in other fund raising programs. The contributions received will be used by the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., an internationally acclaimed research institute for blood diseases in children. The teen crusaders in Romulus collected $596 during the September campaign, Mrs. Harris reported. Odette Lorenz, 17, of 11070

Shook Rd., Romulus, won a transistor radio for selling the most candy during the fund campaign. "On behalf of the afflicted children whom we serve and the ALSAC teens who annually pledge their service to this cause, we of ALSAC wish to thank the merchants, bankers, city fathers and residents for so generously opening their hearts to ALSAC," Mrs. Harris.

Horse riding lessons available now at Michigan fairgrounds

Learning how to ride a horse is a thrill within the reach of every "city-kid" in the greater Detroit area now, thanks to a riding-school program inaugurated at the Michigan State Fairgrounds recently. The Fairgrounds Riding School, introduced in 1970, has almost 100 youngsters enrolled in its low-cost complete instruction program in English and western horsemanship riding. "We really have a unique combination to offer for the interested riding student," Michigan State Fair Manager, E.J. Keirns commented, "started right with our ideal location for Detroit-area youngsters. "Sited on the fairgrounds at Woodward and Eight Mile, our riding school provides both indoor and outdoor riding facilities, a good stable of 15 school horses for instruction and a top-notch teaching staff headed up by veteran instructors." The riding-school's objective, Keirns said is to teach students to become experienced horsemen, not merely riders. All types of classes - beginner, intermediate, advanced, jumping, private, and western are offered daily and classes are scheduled from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; noon to 8 p.m. on Thursday; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday; and noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday. The school is closed on Friday. Keirns said that a special one-time $2.50 group instruction lesson rate ($3.50 for individual) is being offered through Thanksgiving to interested parties "to get more folks involved in the wonderful sport of riding."

'The Organization' is plain escapist fare

United Artists presents a Walter Mirisch production, "The Organization," directed by Don Medford, written by James S. Webb from the character created by John Ball, photographed by Joseph

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

A cartoonist named Steig once drew a series about childhood fantasies depicting day-dreams in which the hero saved the world from Hitler, from monsters, from bandits in one fell swoop.

Everyone, at one time or another, indulges in the wishful thinking that easy solutions may be found to complex problems, but even in films few try to recreate their fantasies. The exception is "The Organization," third in a series of Sidney Poitier detective films after "In the Heat of the Night" and "They Call Me Mr. Tibbs."

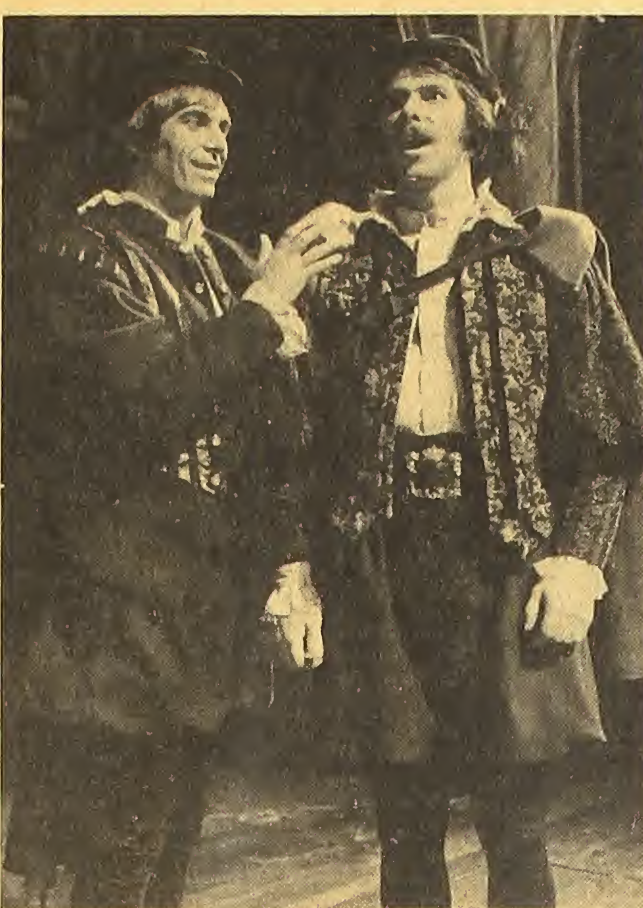

The first Tibbs film, dealing with Tibbs solving a crime in a narrow-minded southern town, made an attempt to discuss a serious social question; there are no such pretensions to "The Organization," which is as escapist as any James Bond or Matt Helm film.

The organization in question is the international dope syndicate. Six young rebels, all of whom have relatives enslaved by dope and who have inside connections with the syndicate, try to use their knowledge to knock out the organization. A minute's reflection would suggest that it isn't quite so easy to erase such groups, but serious reflection is not cricket in escapist films.

The group masterminds the theft from the syndicate of $1/2 million worth of heroin, then are confronted with a murder charge when the syndicate murders its man for opening the vault for his kidnappers. They call in Tibbs (Poitier, of course) who foolishly agrees to undercut his police organization and help them.

From then on its a race to see whether Tibbs and his "irregulars" can get to the syndicate big men before the syndicate picks off the six, one by one, and recovers the heroin. Ultimately Tibbs is suspended by the force for irregular activities which connect him to the heroin heist.

It may be October, but good escapist summer fare like "The Organization" knows no season.

HIT RETURNS — Howard Jensen is Guldenshtern and James Corrigan is Rosencrantz in the Hilberry Theatre production of "Rosencrantz and Guldenshtern Are Dead" by Tom Stoppard. The hit production from last summer reopened recently and will continue in the repertory through Dec. 18. For ticket and schedule information, call the Box Office at 577-2972.

'Play Misty For Me'

Eastwood shouldn't both act and direct

Jennings Lang presents a Universal release-Malpas Company production, "Play Misty For Me," directed by Clint Eastwood, produced by Robert Daley, screenplay by Jo Heims and Dean Riesner, story by Jo Heims, photographed by Bruce Serstees. Technicolor. Rated R. 100 minutes. At the Quo Vadis and Dearborn with the following cast: Clint Eastwood, Jessica Walter, Donna Mills, John Larch.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

It is extraordinarily difficult for a director to act in his own film and maintain a proper perspective, but some veteran directors have done it with success. It is sheer folly for a new director to try it.

Yet this is what Clint Eastwood has done in "Play Misty For Me," his first directorial effort after years of acting. "Misty" has possibilities, but Eastwood is not able to grasp them fully.

Eastwood stars as Dave Garver, a Carmel, California, disc jockey who occasionally uses his records as the background for lush poetry readings. It isn't surprising that he would attract a psychopathic fan like Evelyn (Jessica Walter), who attaches herself to Dave like a leech and, when Dave's old girl friend Tobie (Donna Mills) returns to town, refuses to let go.

Evelyn wrecks Garver's house and nearly kills his housekeeper and is institutionalized. Fortunately for the plot, albeit completely illogically, she is released in time to return for a rousing climax in which she carves up police Sgt. McCallum (John Larch) and threatens Tobie.

The reasons a new director should not also act are evident in Eastwood's performance, which is shallow; he speaks with a throaty voice as if he is continually trying to seduce the audience, but there is no force behind it.

Eastwood also can not stop playing around with his camera, a typically novice fault. He goes for unusual shots which become intrusive, plays around with cuts and dissolves and also has a thing about eye closeups. Eastwood has an unusual grasp of his materials for his first time out, but he has problems assembling them.

"Misty" is also loosley cut, a lyric love scene and a following scene of the Monterey Pop Festival are completely unnecessary, do nothing to heighten a mood of suspense, and probably were inserted so that Eastwood could show that he could handle such scenes.

Eastwood also borrows liberally from others; his murdered detective scene is straight out of Hitchcock's "Psycho."

Only Jessica Walter, of the rest of the cast, makes any impression. She shifts into and out of mania abruptly in a difficult role.

"Play Misty For Me" has its moments but Eastwood does not sustain them. The next time he directs a film he shouldn't act in it. That way he can pay attention to what he's doing.

Special film on drugs to be shown on 'Soul!'

A film of drugs entitled "Epitaph" will be seen in a special edition of "Soul!" at 10 p.m., tonight, on Channel 56.

"Epitaph," the story of a black youth whose life is ended by heroin, was written by a 26-year-old black filmmaker, Richard Mason, who himself died of an overdose two months after beginning production of this film. The work was picked up and completed by Samuel Holmes, a graduate of NET's Television Training School for young people from minority groups.

"Epitaph" is not a documentary. It is a short dramatic work (about 40 minutes) with an explicitly anti-drug theme. "There's no glorification," says Holmes. "This film deals straight to the point of death."

But in addition to underlining the dead-end nature of hard drugs, the film also communicates the bleak world confronting people who it asserts, are trapped in a hellish existence by a racist society.

The film was made on New York's lower east side - for generations a depository for the lowest caste in society, and now composed substantially of black and Spanish-speaking neighborhoods. The story is performed by residents of this area.

In the light of Mason's death, the film appears to be autobiographical to some significant degree. It concerns a teenage boy named Garretre. He is deeply troubled by the world he faces each day, but the only response he can get from his family is: "There's nothing you can do about it; so live for today."

Garretre becomes involved with drugs, and the circumstances of his life continue to deteriorate. An encounter with a homosexual teacher demoralizes him still further. Finally, in the most graphic of scenes, he injects himself with heroin and passes out. Attempts to save his life at a nearby hospital are unsuccessful.

Haizlip interviews Holmes before and after the film.

Children got summer jobs

DALLAS — Some 2,000 poor children were placed in jobs last summer despite a tight labor market in Dallas. Ed Gonzales, director of the Summer Job Fair in Dallas, announced the figure. Gonzales said conservative estimates of total wages paid to participating youngsters were about $800,000. To qualify for a job, the youths had to be from families where no member earned more than $1,900 per year and other family income did not exceed $600.

New Belleville families get health survival kit

A special kind of survival kit containing health and safety information geared to local resources that can be called on in emergencies will be presented soon to new families located throughout Belleville.

Planned in cooperation with the Washtenaw County Medical Society, the program was launched today by Arthur H. Wellnitz, regional manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., and Eleanor M. Brennan, of the company's health education division, at a meeting held at the Holiday Inn East, Ann Arbor.

"What makes the need for this information greater than ever today," said Miss Brennan, "is that one-fifth of our population is on the move every year. The country's suburban population has jumped 28 per cent during the last eight years alone.

"Then, too, suburbia is where the children are," she said. "More than three out of five suburban families have at least one child. And we know that children usually increase the family's medical emergency risk."

Wellnitz said that the kit should help families prevent panic and increase their effectiveness when quick action is necessary. "Knowing the right things to do and planning and practicing how to do them can make all the difference between life and death," he said.

Robert T. Skelly, district manager of Metropolitan Life's Ann Arbor office, said representatives will be presenting the emergency information to new families in Ann Arbor, Belleville, Brighton, Chelsea, Dexter, Howell, Milan, Saline, South Lyon, Ypsilanti and other local areas during the next few weeks. The kits will also be available at the company's local office at 2300 East Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor, telephone number 971-7020.

The kits include information on where to contact a physician or obtain an ambulance in case of emergency, what to do in case of accidental poisoning, where to get first aid training and how to insure blood credit for one year.

They also contain a safety guide for teen-age baby sitters, instruction for mouth-to-mouth rescue breathing, an emergency medical identification card, a first aid wall chart and a picture-primer on health and safety emergencies.

Halloween celebrated Sunday, says mayors

Although there has been no official declaration, the observance of Halloween with its annual trick or treat activity will be on Sunday, Oct. 31, the calendar day for Halloween, in the cities of Belleville and Romulus.

Residents on whether Halloween should be celebrated on Saturday or Sunday, both Mayor Royce E. Smith of Belleville and Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael of Romulus have voiced their personal views that Halloween's observance is Sunday.

School bus accidents, deaths reach new high

Seventeen persons, 12 of them under 20 years of age, were killed and 729 others injured in 1,315 school bus and related type accidents in Michigan in the 1970-71 school year, the State Police traffic division annual summary disclosed.

The death, injury and accident totals all were new highs since record keeping began in Michigan more than 20 years ago.

Compared with the previous year, there were increases of 10 in deaths, 63 in injuries and 230 in accidents.

Of the accidents, 17 caused fatalities, 382 resulted in injuries while 916 caused property damage only.

The breakdown by accident types:

Physically involving school buses — there were nine persons killed, four of them 19 years old or younger, and 471 others injured in 919 of these accidents. The previous year had three deaths and 440 injured in 724 accidents.

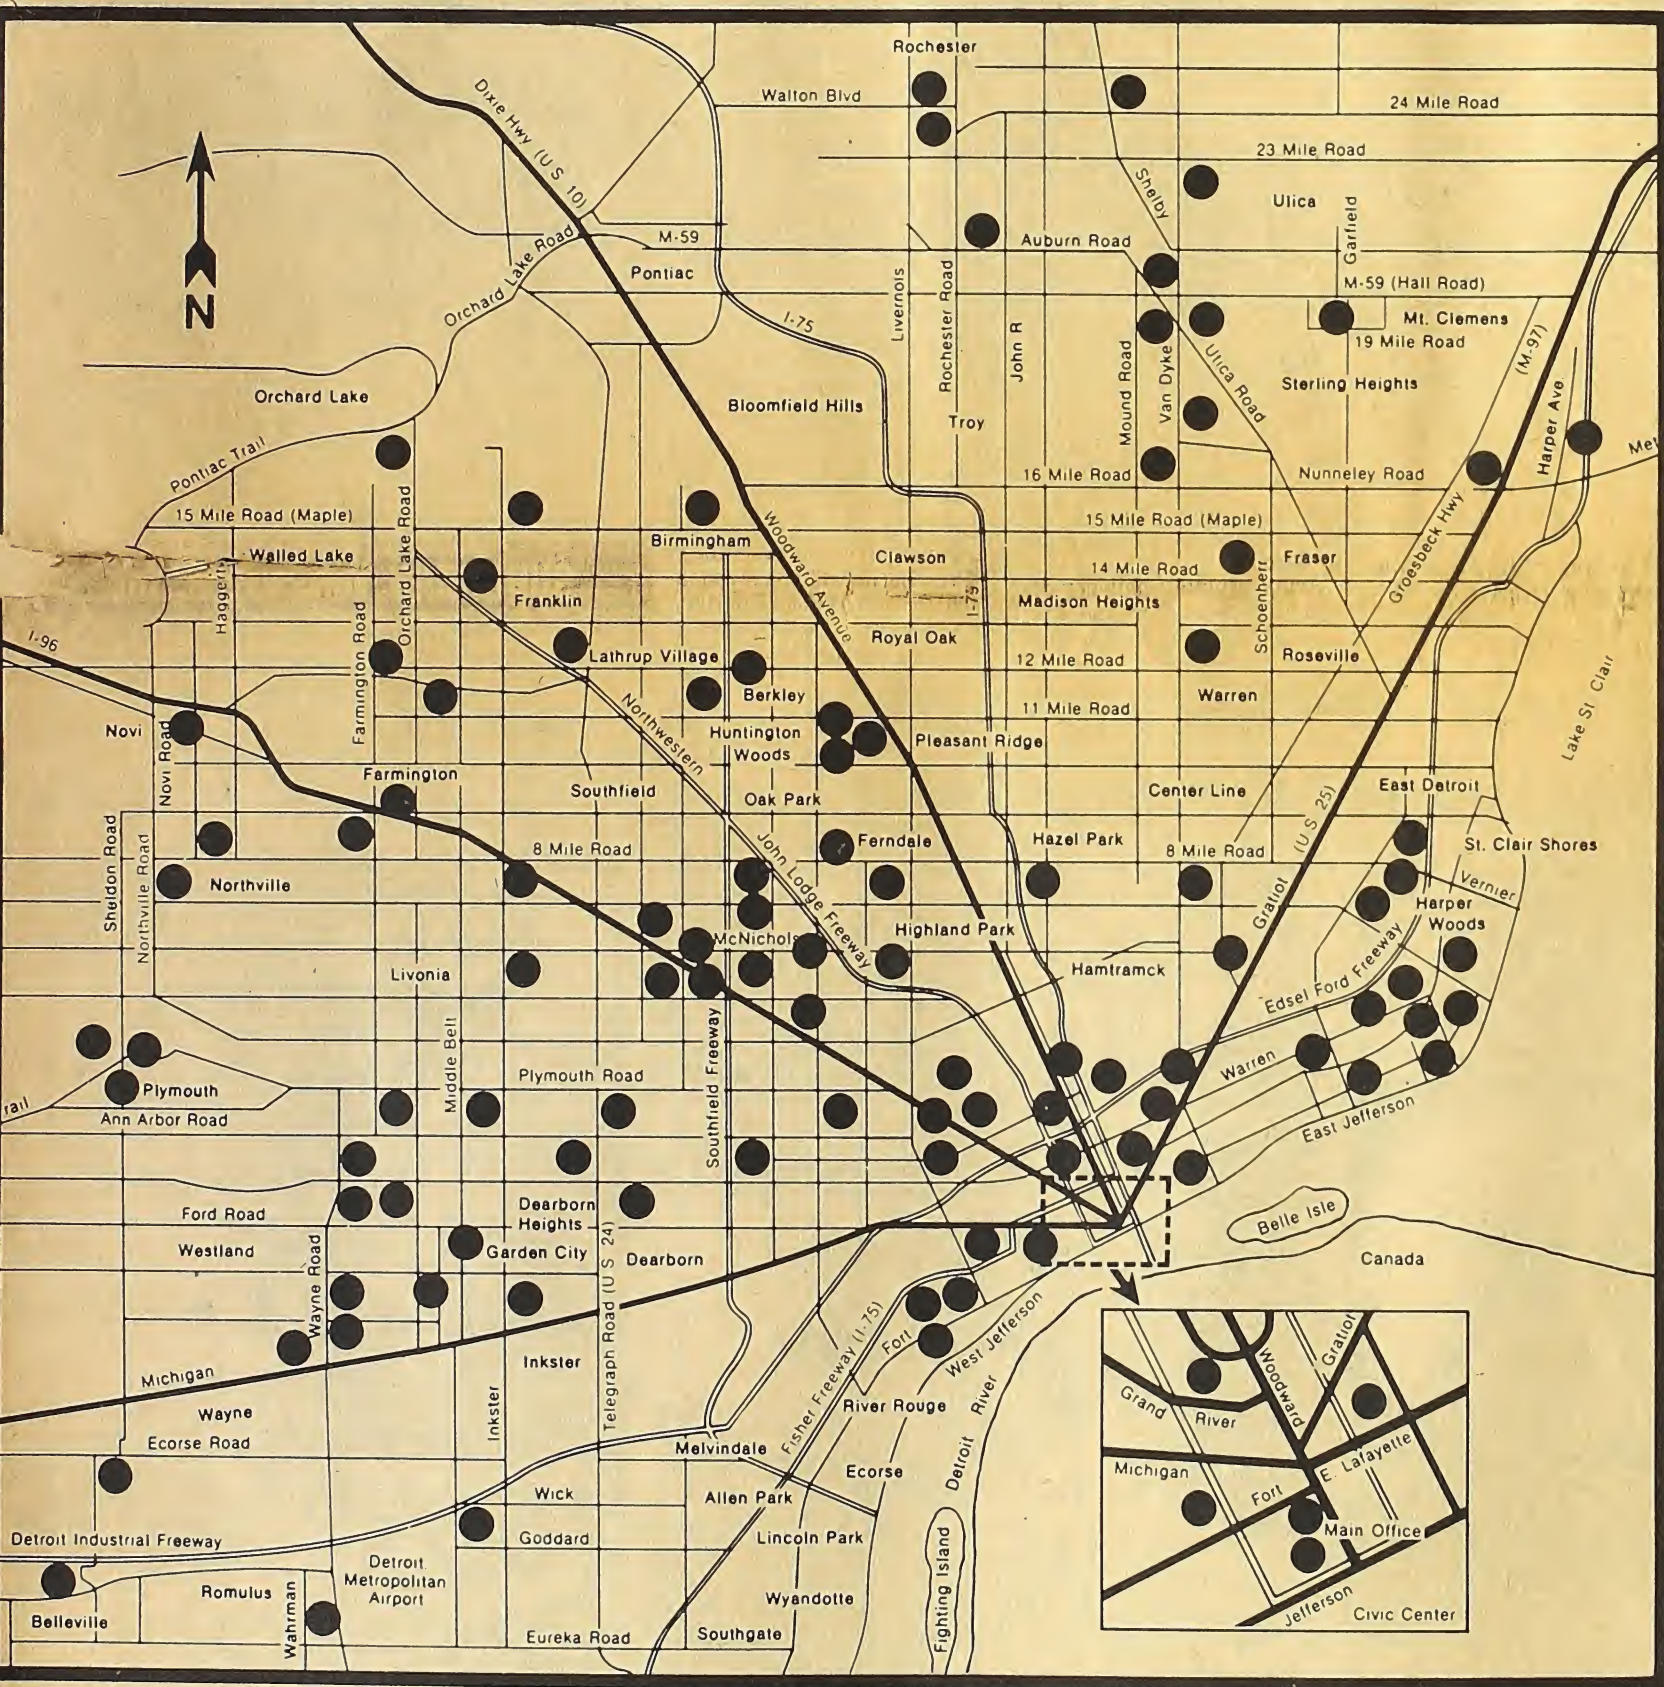

Associated type accidents: — there were 122 which killed eight children and injured 66 persons. These are accidents in which other vehicles cause injury to persons before boarding or after leaving buses. The previous year had four children killed and 43 injured in 54 accidents.

Other associated type accidents — those involving vehicles affected by the stopping of buses — totaled 274 which caused no deaths but injured 192 persons. The previous year had no deaths and 183 injured in 307 accidents.

In the 1970-71 school year, there were 793, 585, students transported daily in 10,028 buses which traveled a total of 84 million miles.

In the school year State Police officers inspected 10,181 buses, with 8,740 approved for a passing percentage of 87. There were 4,997 reinspections, making a total of 15,178 bus inspections made by State Police.

That's us all over.

Every one of those dots represents a National Bank of Detroit office. And every one of those NBD offices lets you deal with Michigan's biggest Bank on a personal basis.

You do your banking with people who know you and your community. Without ever having to leave your community.

You see, having all those offices hasn't in any way diluted NBD's services. Each office is a full-fledged bank—capable of meeting all your banking needs. And should any special situation arise, the senior management of our main office is only a phone call away.

So even though we're Michigan's biggest bank, we're not all that impersonal. We're as friendly as any bank down the street. Because we probably are the bank down the street.

That's the advantage of having more dots than any other bank in town.

And that's why the bank to see is NBD. National Bank of Detroit.

Sewer line installation approved

The installation of water and sewer lines down Jewell Street in Van Buren Township has been approved by the township board.

Morris Levine of Morris Levine and Associates of Detroit, township engineers, reported to the board last week the cost of putting water and sewer lines down Jewell Street will cost an estimated $11,000.

Jewell Street is part of an old subdivision which has been covered with sewer and water lines.

The street, a county right-of-way, was not included since no one resided on the street at the time of the installation program.

SMART wants to help

Citizen Band radio operators needed

The call is going out to all Citizen Band radio operators who want their hobbies to become a community service rather than just a pastime.

They can do it by joining SMART, the Southern Michigan Action React Team. SMART is part of the nationwide REACT network, Radio Emergency Associated Citizens Teams.

According to Dave Whitacre, of Romulus, founder and president of SMART, the organization wants to be a friendly helper, not a mere watchdog.

"We want to be eyes and ears for the community," Whitacre said, "not police officers."

He said a badge and flashing lights would defeat the purpose they were formed for. In fact, SMART is not even interested in a regular patrol.

Whitacre explained that the Detroit Metropolitan area is dotted heavily with CB operators. The problem is not necessarily one of being present in an emergency, but in having a channel of communication with which to summon aid.

"People with CB radios in their cars who are just going back and forth to the grocery store constitute a patrol as far as we are concerned," Whitacre said. "What we want to provide is a monitoring service that they can call when they see an emergency situation."

The most immediate type of help that SMART can provide is to stranded motorists on freeways, or people involved in auto accidents. Another valuable service, when the SMART monitoring system is set up, will be location of lost children.

Whitacre is presently in contact with city officials from several area communities. He is hoping one of the communities will have space to donate for use as a monitoring station. In return, SMART can render valuable emergency service to police departments.

"We'll pay for installation of a telephone and for the phone bill," the president said. "All we need is a little space, and it doesn't have to be very fancy."

The main advantage of such a monitoring station is that the entire SMART team could be activated with a single phone call to that location, rather than having the necessity of calling a long list of numbers.

One of the cities that SMART has been talking to is Inkster, where some program between the new organization and the Community Watch Program is being considered. Whitacre said that several other cities have also expressed an interest.

Our men in service

Private Roland D. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Campbell Sr., 29355 Grix, New Boston, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army training center, Armor, Ft. Knox, Ky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions.

Army private Chauncey M. Wyche, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Wyche, 2711 Sumpter Rd., Belleville, recently completed a 10-week radio operator course at the U.S. Army training center, armor, Ft. Knox, Ky.

He learned to operate and maintain basic military radios and to receive and transmit messages in international morse code.

Marine Pvt. William D. Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brock of 47107 Ecorse Rd., Belleville, has graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Dept, San Diego.

He is a 1971 graduate of Belleville High School.

Army Private First Class Dale R. Bernhardt, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. Bernhardt, 49450 Cross, Belleville, recently completed an administration course at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

He was trained in the preparation of military records and forms. Instruction also was given in fundamentals of the army filing system, typing and operation of office machines.

Pfc. Bernhardt received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1971 in business administration from Ferris State College, Big Rapids, Mich.

SMART had an organizational meeting last April. Since then it has enlisted 51 members from Romulus, Belleville, Inkster, Garden City and many other places.

But, Whitacre says, the more members, the more effective will be the community service.

The cost is minimal: $10 initiation fee and $5 a year for dues. Those interested in joining must be 18 years or older and licensed CB operators.

Information can be obtained by writing to SMART, PO Box 884, Wayne, Mich., 48184 or calling Whitacre at 721-3093.

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT

For The Year Ended June 30, 1971

Van Buren Public Schools

Belleville, Michigan

Board of Education

Van Buren Public Schools

555 West Columbia Avenue

Belleville, Michigan 48111

Gentlemen:

We have examined the financial statements of several funds of the Van Buren Schools, Belleville, Michigan, for the year ended June 30, 1971. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

No verification was made for teachers' classroom enrollment in comparison with school census records.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheets and statements of revenues and expenditures and fund balances present fairly the financial position of the General Fund, Debt Retirement Funds, Building and Site Funds, Cafeteria, Activity Funds and Title I Funds, of the Van Buren Public Schools at June 30, 1971, and the results of the transactions of such Funds for the year then ended, in conformity with the generally accepted principles of accounting. Because the accrual method of reporting was adopted by the district effective July 1, 1970, the accompanying financial statements are not comparable with those of the preceding year.

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Richter Institute

General tendencies: An unusually good day and evening for you to think out what your personal hopes and wishes are and then to contact friends who are in a position to help you get them. Whoever you like appreciates your getting in touch with them now, so don't wait for them to contact you, but invite them to see you or visit them.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you get into some group affair so that you renew old acquaintances, you will be able also to make new friends of worth. Think over what your true personal aims are. Go after them with spirit.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) The right day to go after backing of some bigwig you may need to make a project work successfully. Get your bills paid and improve credit rating. Then you can make big strides forward.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) With all those inspiring ideas you have, you scarcely know which one to pursue first, so get started with whatever is most practical. Get data from one whose know-how is far greater than yours. Get smart.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Find the right new methods to handle all your obligations much better than in the past. An associate is looking to you for new ideas, so do not disappoint. Become a more dynamic, happy person.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't be afraid to tell dynamic and forceful associates what you want in your relationship with them. Then you get fine results. Stop hiding your light under the proverbial bushel.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get more cooperation from co-workers so all of you increase production considerably. However, make sure you know when to stop working so you do not injure your health. Relax happily with mate in p.m.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Once you have finished your work for the day, the evening can be most enjoyable with people you have just met. Take mate along with you. Don't forget to write that check you promised another.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Showing more loyalty and generosity at home is wise now instead of squandering it on outsiders. Listen to what kin have to say and many a fine idea can be used to the advantage of all. Think constructively.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are most alert to opportunities around you and should now make big headway, but be sure you keep notations of ideas you might forget later. Handle correspondence now since you find right words to put down. Get to bed early in p.m.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Find some novel way of improving your monetary position and add to present property holdings. Get advice from experts instead of relying only on your own common sense. Show that you are an active, thinking person.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show others that you are a delightful person who has own as well as others' interests at heart and you make big headway with others now. Make some new plan that is worthwhile. Think along more modern lines.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some new course you hit on now can help you realize your fondest dreams very soon. Think along a lighter vein but one based on idealism. Find the right advisor to help you with your projects.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those young people who is definitely a product of the Aquarian Age and will have a tremendous effect on the public in general and would therefore do well in government work, as a lecturer, in philanthropic work, and the like. There is almost a mind-reading ability in this chart that will prove most helpful so be sure to send to right schools that will show just how to use this quality for the benefit of mankind.

A victory-crumbling fumble at the Allen Park three-yard line after a sustained drive of 60-yards shattered Belleville's chances of a homecoming victory here before an enthusiastic but rain-drenched homecoming crowd Friday night.

Belleville, trailing 7-6 after giving their visitors a 7-0 first quarter gift, drove within three yards of pulling out their third Suburban 8 Conference football victory.

A miscue at the three cost them the touchdown and the victory as Allen Park remained undefeated in the league, coming away with a marrow 7-6 win over Coach Keith Emerson's Tigers.

"We outplayed them in every category except the final score. We should have won this one," said Emerson.

Belleville spotted its visitors an early first quarter touchdown when a miscue on a punt resulted in the Tigers giving up the ball at their own six yard line. One play from scrimmage later, Allen Park's Brian Lott scored and then Frank Mohasci booted what proved to be the winning margin.

Belleville, spearheaded by junior halfback Mike Dansard, came back with their lone touchdown of the game in the second quarter. Quarterback Mike Garland climaxed a 57-yard drive with a scoring 15-yard pass to Bruce Ford to make it 7-6.

Allen Park was penalized during the extra point attempt and the Tigers decided to try for the two points from the 2½ yard line but failed, leaving them one-point shy of equalizing the margin.

Belleville's defense, led by Keith Simons, managed to keep the Jaguars in check the rest of the night.

"The entire team was up for this game," pointed out Belleville's Emerson. "We were a completely different ball club from that of a week ago. The kids put it all together."

Belleville saw a third quarter scoring threat fizzle when a pass interception stopped them on the Allen Park 27-yard line.

Dansard, an exciting runner, proved he is one to be reckoned with as he outdistanced Allen Park's All-State candidate, Mike Trionfi. Dansard rushed for 119 yards in 23 carries to the Trionfi's 93 yards for 18 tries.

Statistically, Belleville piled up 172 yards rushing and 48 passing for a total of 220 as compared to 158 rushing and minus 9 passing for Allen Park. The Tigers carded 15 first downs to AP's eight.

Belleville will host its final game of the season on Friday when Livonia Bentley is in town. It's Parents' Night for the Tigers and another huge crowd is expected on hand.

The Tigers will have two more road games before rounding out the season.

Emerson has a lot of respect for the Livonians, despite the fact they have been able to win but one of their five league starts.

"We must be ready to play football," said Emerson. "We can't afford erratic performances. All the teams in this league are tough and as soon as all of our boys realize it, the better we will stand."

The board says O.K., but...

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Though we're in the midst of the football season, the Romulus board of education turned its thoughts to high school basketball last week to discuss the problems of scheduling.

Romulus, for years a member of the now defunct Twin Valley Conference, apparently can't find enough local cage foes to play and, under a request by athletic director Edward Baum and head basketball coach David Court, must seek outside-the-area rivals.

The Eagles received a board approval to travel 100-miles to Muskegon Heights, for one of their games.

Because a 100 mile travel limit on competitive sports, the board had to approve the trip-and it did. The motion carried though one board member was reluctant to make it unanimous.

So, the Eagle will have to fly more than 100 miles to play basketball, leaving us to wonder what will happen to the spectators-will they tag along?

Send my child 100 miles to watch a regular season game!

Oh, what is this world coming to?

Each year about this time the cross country coaches put their heads together and come up with an All-Area team.

Not this year.

The Westland Jaycees have kindly agreed to sponsor an All-Area meet, similar to that which the Associated Newspapers and The Daily Eagle runs for track.

The Jaycees will offer medals to the top 10 finishers, the first seven of whom will automatically be named to the all-area team.

The date and time of the meet are undecided, but all the plans are on the drawing boards and will be revealed soon. So, keep posted.

And here's an item of interest to folks who believe that football is a game of injuries.

A news story over the wires caught my attention the other day - the one about the lad being killed reportedly after a practice football session.

I wonder just how many youngsters and mature football players actually do succumb to grid injuries, so I looked for the facts. An AP story says "no team sport anywhere in the world has an incidence of injury more frequent than American football...BUT - "When comparing deaths on the gridiron with those in other sports," said Dr. Charles M. Henderson, "football seems almost sedentary".

The hazards of ordinary driving in an automobile, Dr. Henderson recently told the National Athletic Trainers Association, are nine (9) times greater for young men in the 15-22 age group than participation in football.

Other findings cited by Dr. Henderson: A 1964 study showed a ratio of 3.9 deaths for each 100,000 participants in football, 16.7 deaths per 100,000 in power-boat racing, 120 per 100,000 for auto racing, 133.3 for horse racing and 278.6 for motorcycling.

The Mid-Wayne Conference is slowly crumbling — that's a fact.

And while the inevitable happens, some of the protagonists are meeting behind closed doors, in "secret meetings" to form new alliances. But, as yet, there is nothing official to report.

"Secret" - informers say that a Wyandotte newspaper is publishing an in-depth story on the subject. (And I thought the principals in this area loved me!)

Anyway, one this is sure: nothing is sure about the projected formation of high schools. However, the discord in the Mid-Wayne has found some listeners in the Border Cities, namely, Dearborn Fordson, Monroe, and Wyandotte, whose their representatives to the secret meeting.

Delegations also were in attendance from the independent districts of Riverview and Lincoln Park.

Put them all together - Wayne, Taylor Center, Annapolis, and the third Taylor high school which will open its doors in 1973 you count nine.

But one, Dearborn Heights Annapolis immediately announced: "It would not have any part of the new affiliation, because it was a 'David among Goliaths'."

(Oh, what a secret meeting that must have been!)

But the new alignment, if it does materialize, does have the assets of a solid, all-around league. With the exception of Riverview, all are Class A high schools.

For the indoctrinated one of the reasons given for the dissolution of the Mid-Wayne was that it didn't offer competition in all sports, band exchanges, girls' athletics, etc.

This may be so, but there was a racial problem which school officials refused to discuss openly.

And when will the next secret meeting be held - can't tell

HEADING FOR REGIONALS- Belleville's Jon Cross (No. 1) will lead an outstanding Tiger cross country delegation to the regionals meet which will be staged at West Shore

Country Club on Grosse Ile Saturday. Cross and Phil Combs are Coach Ken Head's "premier runners" who have set the pace throughout most of the season.

It wasn't exactly what you'd call a jinx when it came to New Boston Huron winning games from Flat Rock. The Rocks have been able to dominate the series since 1965.

But Friday night it was a completely different story as Coach Lee Smeltzer's Chiefs went on a scoring rampage and walloped their Huron Conference rivals 31-0 for their second league triumph in five starts.

"We just played an excellent all-round game," said Smeltzer who has another tough task in front of him on Friday when his boys host title-hopeful Airport.

"Airport should be on top of the league standings," said

Smeltzer. "They lost on a fluke to Carlson and haven't lost since. They're tough and well coached, so we are going to have our hands full, believe me."

Huron will have a homecoming crowd on hand to help it try to pull off the upset.

There was little doubt about the outcome of the Chiefs' contest with Flat Rock after the first quarter. Flat Rock a few years ago took their frustrations out on the New Boston team by whipping Huron scored twice in the opening quarter as Wayne Kiser danced over from the two and Tim Hinojosa booted the extra point. Later, Dan Clark put on a running display with a 87-yard touchdown sprint that left a score of would-be tacklers in his wake.

The Chiefs padded their margin before intermission with a five-yard TD contributed by Chuck Inman.

The two teams played to the tune of a scoreless third quarter before quarterback

Belleville captures Southgate invitational

Belleville harriers cleaned up their third major invitational cross country title Saturday as Coach Ken Head's runners had little trouble taking the Southgate Invitational.

The Tigers, winners of the Redford Union and the Western Wayne championships, pulled away from a pack of 14 other Western Wayne high schools to pile up a total of 49 team points.

Trailing far behind was Livonia Park which had 60 and in third place were the runners from Dearborn Heights Bishop Borgess (101).

However, Belleville outstanding distance runner, Jon Cross had to be satisfied with a silver medal as Southgate's Dave Barkhart finished first with a record-setting time of 12:05.

Cross was runnerup with 12:17. George Moore, of Lincoln Park finished third.

Other area high schools that competed at the invitational were John Glenn, which finished seventh with a total of 195 points, and Garden City East which had 266 points.

The best of the Westlanders was Bob Faust, who trotted across the finish line in 25th. Teammates Steve Olweean and Jim Reeves were 32 and 39, while Bob Berry and Bob Mink wound up in 49 and 50, respectively.

Eagle rally falls short at Rouge

Romulus waited until the last quarter to display its touchdown powers but it was too late as River Rouge held on to take a 14-12 victory from its former Twin Valley Conference rivals on a rain-drenched gridiron.

The loss left the independent Eagles with a 2-4 won-lost record. Coach George Pratt's gridders lost all four games by one or less touchdowns.

"We didn't do much in the first three quarters," remarked Pratt, "and if we had played the first three quarters as we did the final, I know we would have won."

Romulus will now prepare to meet another former league foe, Willow Run, who will be the Eagles' homecoming guest on Friday at 3:30 p.m. Both teams belonged to the now defunct Twin Valley.

"They are a good, solid team," said Pratt of his next opponent. "But I'm hoping with the alumni on hand, we may be able to win this one."

Rouge struck for touchdowns in each of the first two quarters, getting some help from the Eagles who fumbled in their first series of plays on their own 35-yard line.

Greg Reeves darted off tackle to tilt the scoreboard in the Panther favor. Then the host added another six-pointer mid-way in the second stanza when Martin Hendricks raced six yards off tackle to make it 12-0.

What proved to be devastating for the Eagles was a poor snap from center which resulted in a two-point safety that eventually was the difference in the game.

Late in the second quarter, Herb Bordt, with his back pinned to the goal line, prepared to kick but the ball went floating over his head. He raced into the end zone to retrieve it but before he had a chance he was tackled.

Romulus came back and drove within 30-yards of the Romulus goal line in the third quarter - their furthest penetration. But that's all they managed to generate offensively on the mud-stricken gridiron.

Quarterback Virgil Smith finally convinced the Panthers the Eagles were worthy of staying on the same field as he hooked up with Ken McMann on aerials which brought his team to life.

Jerry McWhorter got his chance to break the ice for the Eagles when they reached the one-year line where he bolted off left guard for the first Romulus touchdown. A fake kick-pass play didn't click and Romulus had a 14-6 deficit to make up.

Smith and McMann later collaborated on a 35-yard pass-run play which made up six more points. The Eagle quarterback tried for two-points on another pass but failed.

McMann not only proved himself offensively, snaring five passes, including a TD for more than 100 yards, he also stood out on defense where as

Allen Slate, of KNX reported: "Only one game in the majors Sunday. Pittsburgh edged Baltimore 2-1."

Another member of the Fourth Estate relays this to us. Middle Tennessee State had just completed installing artificial turf. During the laying of the foam padding a small puddle of glue spilled and a small spectator inched forward - as inquisitive youngsters will do - until he was literally standing in the glue.

The job foreman, noting that the boy had moved, warned: "Son, if you stand there 10 more minutes you will be right there for the opening kickoff."

Norwood makes roster after 2-year wait

It was a round about route that finally brought forward Willie Norwood to the Detroit Pistons National Basketball Association team this season.

Norwood, a product of Alcorn A & M College in Mississippi, originally was a second round draft choice of the Pistons in the spring of 1969.

But not until this fall did Norwood's name show up on the official Pistons roster.

To start with he thought there were greener monetary pastures in the rival American Basketball Association. He tried out with Louisville, but an injury cut his stay there shorter than was originally planned.

Next came a brief tenure as an assistant college basketball coach.

In the summer of 1970 there came an offer to play in France. Off Norwood went, primarily just to play until the fall. But he liked it so well that he decided to stay a little longer, playing basketball in the European country throughout the winter of 1970-71.

But Norwood and his wife became lonesome and they decided to return to the United States. He wasted no time calling the Pistons to find out whether general manager Ed Coll and coach Bill Van Breda Kolf still were interested in him.

The rest of the Norwood story is a happy one, not only for him, but for the Pistons as well. He emerged as the number one surprise of the team's training camp. He won himself a spot on the roster and he even has started some of the games already this season for the Detroit NBA representative.

Van Breda Kolf calls Norwood one of the "best coached players I've ever seen." The Detroit coach also says of his rookie, "Norwood also knows the game very well."

To date, neither Norwood or the Pistons have had too much of a chance to play at home. The schedule has kept the team pretty much on the road, from one end of the country to the other, although they stopped at home last night for a meeting with Houston and will be back at Cobo Arena on Friday night to play host to the Baltimore Bullets.

"Maybe it's just as well for me that we have been playing away so much," said Norwood. "The pressure on a new player isn't quite as great when you're on the road. By the time we come home to play a lot, gee, I'll almost be an old pro."

MAKING GOOD PROGRESS - Belleville's Larry Warren is logging Wayne State University playing time as a back-up man at offensive tackle. The 5'11" 228 pound junior plays the strong (or right) side on WSU's line which has opened up holes for an average of 228.3 yards rushing per game. WSU was idle this weekend and is now preparing for a meeting with the University of Illinois - Chicago Circle on Saturday at the Tartar's home field.

a safety he picked off two interceptions and narrowly missed another.

Mike Hunter set up McMan's TD when he stole the ball from the carrier's hands at the 35-yard line.

Also distinguishing themselves on defense were linebacker Roy Hollis and sophomore defensive tackle, 250-pound, Henry Reid, who will be heard from a lot more from hereon, according to Coach Pratt.

Smith's pass protection was also set up by the excellent blocking of center John Maitland.

Jackson comes to Northville

Jackson's action at Northville Downs, running from Nov. 1 through Dec. 18 will include two trifectas nightly, Leon A. Slavin, president and general manager of Jackson Trotting Association, sponsor of the 42-night meet, announced on Monday.

This popular form of wagering, which has caught the fancy of the race going public where ever it has been offered, is scheduled for both the sixth and tenth races nightly.

In the trifecta the selector must pick the correct order of finish of the first three horses in the race. As the trifecta is based on the results of just one race it has brought about a shortening of the wait between races, a problem that developed when the old two-race form of wagering was offered.

The trifecta was introduced to Michigan harness racing fans this year, on a one night basis. Almost immediately public response dictated the scheduling of an additional trifecta race.

Payouts for the trifectas have reached as high as several thousands of dollars for those who have been able to correctly select the first three finishers in a trifecta race. The Jackson-Northville meet will continue to offer the nightly double, in which fans pick the winner of the first and second races on the program, and the usual win-place-show wagering on the results of the 10 races scheduled each night.

Almost perfect

Two divisions of the Belleville Cougar football squads are only one game away from a perfect season. The junior varsity and varsity units have yet to suffer a defeat in seven starts and the true test is due next Sunday when the Cougars play host to cross-town rival Romulus in the season finale for both teams. The Romulus contingent also sports an impressive record.

In the last outing, Belleville met the Westland Jets at Livonia Churchill High School. The Freshmen had their troubles and dropped a 12-0 decision but the jayvees and varsity squads kept their unblemished records intact with victories.

The junior varsity squad outlasted their Westland counterparts by a score of 12-6 while the Varsity bested their hosts by a score of 18-6.

The showdown contest will be held at Belleville High School on Sunday with the kickoff set for 1 p.m.

Michigan State All-America tackle candidate Ron Curl twice has set up scores for the Spartans at Notre Dame Stadium. In 1969 he blocked an Irish punt and a play later State scored a TD. In 1971 his tackle caused an Irish back to fumble into the end zone and State picked up a safety.

TARTAR LEADER - George Breaz, former football standout at New Boston Huron High School, is showing the way for his Wayne State University comrades this year, retaining the position as over-all defensive leader. As linebacker. The 6-foot-2, 215 pound senior remains the over-all leader for the season in WSU's Hitters Club with a total of 91 points in four games. Points are awarded on a basis of two points for solo tackles and one point for an assist. Breaz currently leads the squad, averaging more than 20 points per game and also holds down the number one position in solo tackles. The College Division All-America candidate has also proven his offensive power, carrying the ball six times for three touchdowns and a 6.7 yards per carry average.

Senator eyes bill to protect MHSAA

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - Sen. John Toepp said today he will introduce a bill to block the State Board of Education from taking over eligibility rulings for high school athletics when the legislature reconvenes Oct. 26.

That is the same day the board is expected to discuss and possibly vote to approve the takeover.

Toepp said he hopes to get a resolution passed by the legislature first to head off School Board action. Then he believes he can get his bill passed.

The State Board has announced it will take the question of deciding eligibility from the Michigan High School Athletic Association, a private, non-profit group which has determined eligibility since 1927.

The board conducted five hearings on the matter and found virtually no public support for its takeover.

However, there is "no question" that the board will take over jurisdiction, according to Michael Reeb, hearing chairman. The board says it is acting on a request from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley who questions the legal status of the association over high school athletic eligibility. Kelley says the board should have power over eligibility since it is in charge of Michigan public school affairs.

Toepp, (R-Cadillac), a sportscaster and former athletic official, says he has paid $102 of his own money to erect a billboard in Traverse City which reproduces a telegram he sent Monday to the Board of Education reading: Respectfully request you stay out of Michigan high school athletics."

Company's social-service group celebrates 60th anniversary

A unique organization - the Telephone Pioneers of America - is celebrating its 60th anniversary in Michigan and all over the United States and Canada tomorrow (Thursday).

Telephone Pioneers are active and retired telephone employees with 21 or more years of service. With 350,000 members, the organization is the world's largest voluntary association of industrial employees.

In the Michigan (Wolverine) chapter, there are 11,100

Pioneers - 7,340 working at Michigan Bell, and 3,760 retired from the company.

Organized as a largely social organization in 1911, the Pioneers today are active in community service projects of almost every description in almost every community.

Much of the Pioneers' work relates to blind, deaf or otherwise physically handicapped people, in the tradition of the inventor of the telephone, Alexander Graham Bell, himself a teacher of the deaf.

A prime example is the Pioneers' long association with the Michigan State Library for the Blind. Several years ago, Michigan Pioneers agreed to repair the talking book machines used by the blind. Since then, hundreds of machines have been put back into service by volunteer Pioneers working in 12 repair centers around the state.

For retarded children and those with speech problems, Pioneers statewide have constructed, installed and maintain 143 Nowak kits. Built originally by Harold J. Nowak, a Michigan Bell employee at Mt. Clemens, these portable telephone units teach children finger dexterity, numbers, dialing and the use of the phone in an emergency.

The units also help speech therapists to set up additional programs in speech correction based on the conversations of the children. "Talking" dolls and animals now can be found in many schools for the handicapped and retarded, thanks to the Pioneers. These extra-large toys are equipped with walkie-talkie systems that teachers can use to talk to youngsters who have difficulty relating to people.

Introduced in Michigan a year ago, 16 toys now are being used, and eight are being prepared for use soon.

Pegasus 4-H group completes its first year

The Pegasus 4-H club completed its first year with a family fun day recently held at Brian Beatys of 49905 Bog Rd., Belleville.

In the evening hot dogs cooked over an open fire with the girls in the cooking project bringing desserts completed the activities.

The year's projects included clothing, foods, nutrition, arts and crafts, flower arranging, wood-working, junior leader, dog, goat, sheep and horse projects.

Special county activities that the club participated in were the awards banquet, achievement day, Greenfield Village, dress review, junior leader horse show, 4-H leaders horse show, parade and 4-H Queen's court.

All members exhibited at the County 4-H Fair held in August in Belleville. Excelling in the horse project were Tim Katona with his Appolosa horse. Tim received three trophies, grand champion rosette and the honor to participate in Lansing at the state show for horses with all other counties.

Sheryl Swinton and Pam Katona were also selected hi-point and reserve hi-point registered pony respectively. Sheryl participated in Lansing also.

Other members in the horse project who did well were Sandy Lavane, Brian Beaty, Denise and David Pawlowski. Young members in the horse notebook project were Connie Mason, Sherry Pawlowski, Bob and Mark Memering.

Other trophy winners were Sheryl Swinton for goat, Brian Beaty for sheep, and Tim Katona for junior leader trophy.

Terry Mayfield, Mary Butler, Dorothy Younglove and the above mentioned members also exhibited in the exhibit building.

Board approves recreation grant

A subsidy in the amount of $6,500 to conduct a winter recreation program in Van Buren Township has been approved by the township board.

The Township Board of Trustees approved the subsidy on the request of Ray Florian, chairman of the Van Buren Township Recreation Commission.

Florian made two appearances before the township board on the winter recreation proposal and last week, after study and review of the proposed program, officials approved the $6,500 grant.

The motion to approve the grant for this year only was made by Trustee Joseph Hogan. He was supported by Trustee Jerry Maton and the motion was approved unanimously.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

At election time, and up to the very minute you cast your vote, the influence of other people has had some sort of influence on you. Remember that. It's important! And if you have ever thought the people in government exercise too much influence, remember another thing. Government is one thing and one thing only. PEOPLE! If and when we think people in government have too much influence, we have ourselves to blame. We, the voters, have far more influence than they. OUR votes influence THEM. The best way NOT to influence the people in government is simply to stay away from the polls. But, when you DO vote, whether it be for men or issues, you cast YOUR influence. Obviously, before you can influence people in government, you have to influence yourself to vote.

The attempted influence by others before election can be accepted or rejected by you. When you stand in front of the silent, secret voting booth or in front of the whirring voting machine, YOU are the one who is doing the influencing. Be an influential! VOTE! Cast YOUR influence!

Windstorms do more damage, kill more than hurricanes

Among the ill winds that blow no good, tornados and hurricanes are considered the arch-villains. Now comes word that the ordinary garden variety windstorm wreaks more damage than its celebrated cousins do.

Figures compiled by the National Weather Service show that windstorms accounted for at least $50 million in property damage in the United States for each of the last 10 years - and in some of those years caused more than $500 million in damage.

"We don't hear much about windstorms because few people are affected by each of them," says Edwin P. Wiegel, public affairs officer for the National Weather Service.

"The big storms like Celia get the headlines. Yet year in and year out it's the rather ordinary winds that account for the greatest property damage."

The average number of hurricanes and tropical storms is about four, the average number of tornados about 600 and the number of windstorms - many of them with violently destructive winds - is estimated in the tens of thousands.

Windstorms are also a significant, though unrecognized, cause of death. Lightning from electrical storms kills more people each year on the average than any other weather event.

It is common for windstorms to blow at hurricane speeds of 75 miles an hour for brief periods, Wiegel comments. "These short bursts of speed inflict considerable damage by blowing off shingles, damaging crops or causing unstable buildings to collapse."

"Unless it is anchored, a mobile home can be overturned by even a 45 mile-per-hour wind if it happens to hit at just the wrong angle. Winds that would merely rip the shingles off a conventional house can send an unsecured mobile home rolling like an empty shoebox."

Wiegel strongly advises that mobile homes be anchored with tie-down equipment. Dr. Richard H. Simpson, director of the National Hurricane Center says, "I wouldn't think of leaving my mobile home without straps attached to holdfasts embedded in concrete."

When a windstorm is anticipated it's a good time to stay indoors but away from electrical appliances. If you should happen to be caught outdoors remember to keep away from lightning conductive objects. Many persons aware of this still remain too close to trees. Twice the tree's height is a safe distance.

A windstorm usually passes quickly, usually in the matter of a few hours. Remember, however, that windstorms sometimes give rise to tornados. Tune in your radio or television receiver and listen for warnings.

Appointments, promotions within county department

The Wayne County Road Commission has named two blacks to high legal and administrative positions within the organization in a shuffle that brought promotions to three current members of the staff.

David L. Jackson, a 31-year-old Detroit News reporter, was named to the job of Assistant Director of Administration - Roads at a salary range between $27,624 to $28,274. Jackson, who joined the News in the fall of 1967, was born in Reading, Pa., and graduated from Temple University in Philadelphia. He lives at 18100 Woodingham with his wife and in another move, the board named Jefferson L. Jordan as Land and Legal Principal Attorney of its staff. Jordan, 50, was graduated from Wilberforce University in 1943 and received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1949.

Currently a general attorney for the Veterans Administration, Jordan has engaged in the general private practice of law and spent a period of time as enforcement attorney for the Office of Price Stabilization. He lives at 5400 E. Outer Dr. and will receive a salary of $26,436.

A second assistant director of administration position, unfilled for a number of years, will be taken by Thomas J. Fidge, a veteran civil service employee with a broad background as a civil service technician and administrator.

With a degree in industrial psychology from Michigan State University, Fidge, now 41, became a personnel technician for the Wayne County Civil Service Commission in 1956 after several temporary summer jobs with the Road Commission while still in school. He became a personnel officer with the commission in 1964 and advanced to the post of director of employee relations. Fidge lives at 49125 N. Territorial, Plymouth, with his wife and two sons. His job pays a range of $27,624 to $28,274.

Fidge's position as director of employee relations will be filled with the promotion of Austin L. Myers, 44, of 31928 Rush, Garden City, Austin, married and the father of three children, holds a B.S. degree from Indiana State University. He holds a teaching certificate in mathematics and biological science and joined the county service in 1950 at Wayne County General Hospital.

John E. Breen, an employee of the Road Commission since 1952, has been named condemnation chief trail attorney for the board's legal staff. Breen, 45, of 18044 Warrington, received his bachelor's and law degree from Wayne State University. He will represent the board in numerous real estate and condemnation suits in which it is involved.

There was a large turnout of 4-H horse leaders and parents in attendance.

The next monthly meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the 4-H Fairgrounds. All 4-H leaders and 4-H parents are invited to attend these monthly meetings.

4-H horse leaders elect new officers

The Wayne County 4-H Horse Leaders met last Wednesday (Oct. 13) at the 4-H Fairgrounds and elected officers for the 1971-72 year.

The new officers are as follows: president, Chris Fischer of Romulus vice president, Wayne Pankey of Belleville; secretary, Ella Cappuccio of Romulus; treasurer, Edsel Beaty of Belleville; registrar Mildred Harrison of Romulus. Directors are Bob Geake of

Fleeing farmers

One-third of the U.S. population lived on farms back in 1910, but over the years this number has decreased to 8.7 per cent in 1960, to 5.1 per cent in 1970. It's expected that by 1980 this figure will reach as low as 4 per cent. On the average, 650,000 people leave the farms each year looking for jobs in the city.

BLESS THOSE CONVENIENCE FOODS - 'Gateau Pithiviers', an elegant French dessert, creates a rich exciting finale to a dinner party. A "once upon a time" difficult pastry to prepare, this 'Almond Cream Cake' is easy with the convenience of a package of vanilla tapioca pudding and frozen patty shells. A puff pastry, this mouth-watering delicacy is a superb example of the pride and joy of every French chef. (Courtesy Jello-O Vanilla Tapioca Pudding.)

The aristocrat of all fine French pastries

Gateau Pithiviers (Almond Cream Cake)

1 package (3 1/4 oz.) vanilla tapioca pudding
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/3 cup very finely chopped blanched almonds
1 package (10 oz.) frozen patty shells, thawed
Cold water
1 egg yolk
Water
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Combine tapioca pudding and milk in medium saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat; stir in butter and almond extract. Cool 10 to 15 minutes, stirring twice. Cover surface with wax paper. Chill thoroughly. Stir well; then fold in almonds.

Press 3 thawed patty shells together. Roll out on lightly floured board into a 10 1/2-inch circle. Repeat process with remaining 3 patty shells. Place bottom of 9-inch pan in center of one of the pastry circles. Lightly mark a circle, using pan bottom as a guide. Lift off pan and fill marked circle with almond-tapioca mixture. Using a pastry brush and cold water, moisten a band of pastry about 1 1/2 inches wide around filling. Place second pastry circle over top and press down around filling. Invert 9-inch pie pan over top of pastry. Cut around rim of pan with a sharp knife, holding knife at an angle pointing inward so that top pastry will be slightly larger than bottom pastry. Remove pan, and press pastry edges together tightly to seal. Place on a chilled baking sheet.

With a small pointed knife held vertically, cut shallow notches at 1-inch intervals around edge of filled pastry on baking sheet. With point of knife, score top of pastry into 8 pie-shaped wedges (do not cut through pastry). Between the wedges, score or mark a circular design like a spider's web. Combine egg yolk and small amount of water; lightly brush over top of filled pastry (do not let mixture run down sides). Chill 10 minutes. Bake at 400 degrees about 25 minutes or until puffed and golden. Sift confectioners' sugar over top. Increase oven temperature to highest setting. Continue baking until sugar caramelizes and top is glossy. (Watch carefully to prevent burning.) Cool at least 2 hours before serving. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Apple Pudding Normandy

1 can (20 oz.) pie-sliced apples
1/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Dash of salt
1 package (3 1/4 oz.) vanilla tapioca pudding
1 1/2 cups milk
1 egg
Crunchy Crisp Topping

In medium saucepan, combine undrained apples, sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, and salt. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover, and cook 10 to 15 minutes or until apples are tender. In bowl, combine tapioca pudding, milk, and egg. Remove apple mixture from heat; stir in tapioca mixture. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Cook 15 minutes, stirring twice. Pour into a large bowl or individual serving dishes. Serve warm or chilled. Sprinkle with the topping. Makes 3 1/4 cups or 7 or 8 servings.

Why phosphates?

Do we really need phosphates in our detergents? Yes, at the present time. Although the detergent industry is firmly committed to seek phosphate replacements, and has devoted a lot of money and scientist man-years to this search, they have not found a satisfactory replacement which meets three requirements: Demonstrated safety for humans, environmental safety at high levels of mass use and effective cleaning performance. Further, if phosphates were to be cut down in detergents before suitable replacements are available, our nation's health and sanitation level could drop significantly.

Ayoubee-Shipley marry

Florida honeymoon follows fall wedding

A honeymoon in New Smyrna Beach, Florida followed the October 16 wedding of Bonnie Lee Shipley of Saline and Alan Raymond Ayoubee of Belleville. Faith United Methodist Church in Denton was reserved for the two o'clock nuptials at which the Rev. George T. Nevin presided.

Parents of the young couple are Mrs. Douglas C. Young of 398 Hollywood Drive, Saline, and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith of 6214 Gilmore Street, Belleville.

Miss Shipley, given in marriage by her brother, Clyde W. Shipley of Ypsilanti, chose for her wedding day an A-line gown of satin with an overlay of lace-appliqued organza. The little fitted bodice, designed with a lifted waistline traced with pink satin ribbon, was made with a high neckline, accented with lace appliques, and long, bouffant sleeves.

HER FLOOR-LENGTH illusion veil was caught to a flat headress of lace covered with a soft satin bow from which two pink satin streamers cascaded. Completing her bridal finery was a crescent-shaped bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

As maid of honor, Pamela Jane Peters of Ypsilanti donned a toe-touching frock fashioned with a pink polyester empire bodice and pink and white floral lace skirt. Complimenting her dress was a nosegay of pink and white daisies and carnations.

Bridesmaids in similar gowns with the skirts in a darker pink were Sharon and Mary Smith, sisters of the bridegroom.

BEST MAN was Mario Griego of Ypsilanti and ushers were the bridegroom's brothers, Lynn Smith of Ypsilanti and Ronnie Ayoubee of Lansing.

At the reception, which followed in the church parlours, the bride's mother received in a blue coat-dress ensemble with matching accessories. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Smith chose a dark blue frock with matching accessories.

Pre-nuptial parties included a miscellaneous shower for the bride given by her three attendants and the rehearsal dinner October 14 at Casa Nova Restaurant in Ypsilanti hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

The newlyweds are making their home at 1762 Washtenaw, Ypsilanti.

Cost-cutting strategies invade the supermarket

Two can live as cheaply as one, but only for half as long. "The sentiment is especially true for food costs," says Marilyn Mook, extension foods specialist at Michigan State University. "If you can't remember last week's grocery bill without a grimace, you may need some effective cost-cutting strategies."

First of all, to figure how much you spend on food alone, subtract the cost of non-food items that you buy at the grocery store - soap, light bulbs, magazines, etc.

Once you know your food expenses, you can begin to cut them with careful planning - shopping for specials, keeping a running list of your needs and shopping as seldom as possible.

Shop alone, because hubby and kids usually discover all sorts of unplanned for goodies, she says. And if you shop when you're hungry, you might be tempted by extras, too.

"Generally, the more preparation a food manufacturer has done for you, the more expensive the food," Miss Mook points out. "For example, a frozen TV dinner will probably cost more than a similar meal prepared at home. And a box of muffin mix costs more than the individual ingredients.

"A whole chicken costs less per pound than a cut up one. Frozen foods generally cost more than canned foods, because special equipment and facilities are needed.

"Some exceptions to this rule include frozen orange juice concentrate, angel food cake mix, and ready-to-eat cookies and brownies," she says.

Economical food shopping often means you must sacrifice some other resource, and this may or may not be worthwhile to you.

For example, it may be cheaper to bake bread at home, but do you have four hours for baking bread? Cheaper cuts of meat are also less tender, and take more time to prepare. It doesn't take much time or imagination to toss a porterhouse steak under the broiler. But it takes time to prepare swiss steak from round steak.

Buying food in bulk saves money, but you need more storage space.

"There are many ways to save on food costs," Miss Mook says. "You may not be able to cut your food bill in half, or even by a third or fourth. But every few dollars can add up to substantial savings."

BAZAAR PREPARATIONS — Mrs. Raymond Kohr, (right) who has taken on the duties of general chairman for the annual Holiday Bazaar sponsored by the W.S.C.S. of the First United Methodist Church, has been meeting with committees each week to prepare items for the various booths which will be featured at the November 4 event. Mrs. James Kause, her co-chairman, (left) and Mrs. Helen White look over the corn husk dolls which will be a new addition to the Christmas novelties booth. The 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. bazaar will be highlighted by a luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Galloping Comedians fete former member

The Galloping Comedians 4-H Club held its first meeting of the year October 19, to register and select projects for the ensuing year. Organizational leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curry, hosted the meeting. In the absence of the president Sue Simon, the vice-president Roy Bland presided over the meeting.

Mac Milton introduced two new members joining the club, Mary and Thresa Schubert.

An activities committee was formed to plan the years extra activities. Also, a committee was formed to plan the Christmas party and bring an initial report to the November meeting. The members expressed a desire to have a softball team next spring.

After the meeting the club members journeyed to Mrs. Connee Morris' for refreshments and it turned out to be a surprise miscellaneous wedding shower for Marla (Milton) Brown. Marla has been a member of the club for a number of years and was married this past summer (giving up her 4-H membership) during the clubs busy time so the shower had to wait till now. Punch, ice cream and cake was served. The cake was decorated by Ardy Curry in the fall harvest theme. Cake decorating is one of Ardy's projects she enjoys so much. Marla received many useful household items. Her husband, Bill, is in the armed service and stationed at Ft. Hustis, Virginia.

Adult leaders attending the meeting were Mrs. Marlow Milton, photography leader; Mrs. Betty Ostrowski, cake-decorating leader; Mrs. Connee Morris, clothing and horse leader and Mrs. Geneva Caudle, craft leader. The next meeting is scheduled for November 9.

The U.S. now has more than 315,000 physicians, an increase of 879 over 1960, according to the American Medical Association.

MISS GRISHABER

Grishabers announce engagement

A wedding in August of 1972 is being planned by Sharon Marie Grishaber and Gary Melvin Staffeld whose engagement is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Adam Grishaber of 39750 Ecorse Road, Wayne, parents of the bride-elect.

A Belleville High School graduate, Miss Grishaber is currently employed at Bendix Aerospace Systems Division.

Her fiance, son of Mrs. Margaret Staffeld of 7277 Middlebelt Road, Romulus, and the late Melvin Staffeld, is in his third year at Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo.

When there just isn't a 'place for everything'

Single students, married students, young career-makers, newlyweds and thousands of other apartment dwellers face a common woe: Where to put everything!

If you're too poor to rent a warehouse or too sentimental to get rid of anything, you probably need some sound, creative ideas for storage facilities, says Margaret Boschetti, home furnishings specialist for the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Usually the most important items in search of a home are clothes, linen and bedding, sports equipment, kitchen utensils and books, she says.

Few apartments have enough clothing storage for a group of people. Miss Boschetti points out. You might put seldom-used articles - out-of-season clothes that can be stored without pressing, for example - in a shallow box under the bed. Multiple hangers are great for skirts, shirts and blouses.

A linen closet can take care of sheets, towels, blankets, bathroom supplies and medicine. But if you don't have one, why not use a small chest of drawers for the purpose? The same idea could serve for dining area storage of tablecloths, place mats, trivets, serving dishes and flatware, the specialist says.

Sports are fun in season but accommodating skis in the summer and scuba gear in the winter only adds to your storage problems. A huge, brightly painted pegboard might be the answer for your more "hang-able" equipment. Heavier items need more closet space.

Pegboard is a lifesaver in a small kitchen, too, Miss Boschetti adds. Unless you have sufficient drawers and cupboards, you can use it for hanging pots, pans and small, handy utensils. Pegboard can even be outfitted with shelves for bigger items.

Variations of the old standby - the brick-and-board book shelf - make a striking storage-display area for books, magazines, television, flowers and knick-knacks. Combine wood (naturally finished or painted) with building blocks, glass blocks or concrete blocks.

Plywood cubes (painted or covered with adhesive paper) are a simple, inexpensive storage device for any room, the specialist says. They can be left open on one side, or hinged to serve as a storage-table combination.

Foursome enjoys northern colors

AMONG THOSE enjoying the colorful change of seasons in the Gladwin area recently were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Neely of Bemis Road and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curry of Robbe Road. While spending the past two week-ends at the Neely's cottage, they paid a visit to Mrs. Curry's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Daves (Villa Apartment residents) at their newly-purchased cottage at Harrison.

Their own guests on Sunday were Jo Ann Neely and her friend, Danny Wilkins, and Ardyth Curry and her friend, Bob Dearing.

While hiking through the woodland trails, which are very popular with snowmobilers in the winter, the foursome saw several deer and mentally made plans for their own winter jaunts, having already purchased the necessary equipment and machines for Michigan's snow-time.

Fifty-five guests honor bride-elect

DEBRA MCCOY, who's to be the November bride of Chester Meyer, was the honored guest recently at a miscellaneous bridal shower given by Mrs. Robert Stamper. Held at the Canton Township Hall, the evening party was attended by 55 friends and relatives from Ypsilanti, Romulus, Belleville and other neighboring cities.

A blue and green color scheme, that of the wedding, was used for decorating as well as for the flowers which comprised Debra's corsage.

Wedding-theme games and bingo were followed by a buffet lunch and the opening of gifts.

The bride-elect, daughter of the Darrol Gustins of Belleville, and her fiance are both graduates of Belleville High School.

Bellevillites attend Wayne wedding

CLAYTON RANDALL (Randy) Whittaker and Donna Miller were united in marriage Saturday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Wayne. Randy, the son of Jim and Edith (Bokon) Whittaker of Wayne, and his bride were later feted at a reception in Garden City's Garrison House.

Among those attending from Belleville were relatives of the bridegroom: Elwood and Anne Davie, whose daughter, Karen, was maid of honor; John and Clara Bokon and all their children - Joe and Jan Ross, Jim and Barbara Lewis, and Mary, Kathy and Johnnie; the Jim Bokon family; and the Louie Bokons, their daughter, Jackie and her date, Don Brooks, son Johnnie, and married daughter and son-in-law Diana and Ron Campbell.

Still others offering congratulations to the young couple were Steve and Agnes Tkachuk, Bob and Emmalee Marble, the Ed, Bill and Tom Hedges, and the Bert Smiths.

Here 'n there... around town

THE LEONARD HUDGES jetted in from their home in Tarpon Springs, Florida last Thursday to check on the health of her mother, Mrs. William Sietz, who has been hospitalized for the past several weeks. Friday she was released from St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor, and is now convalescing at her home on Sumpter road where the Hedges are currently staying. ... THE ROGER ALLYNS motored northward over the week-end, hoping to see much of autumn's color change, as they visited Aileen's brother-in-law and sister, the Gerald McCormacks in Bay City. Rain and Hazinez marred their travels but getting a look at their niece's new twins, Stacey and Lisa Sherwood, made the whole trip worthwhile. The baby's are the daughter's of Sheila (McCormack) Sherwood and her husband, Doug.

Security confab slated in Romulus

A conference on security measures, co-sponsored by the Romulus Chamber of Commerce and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, will be held at the Ramada Inn, 8270 Wickham, at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 4.

Concurrent with the conference, the County Sheriff Department and its Community Relations Bureau will exhibit a wide array of protective devices and services.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael cited the rising losses due to crime and increasing concern over the security of many Romulus businesses and industries as a major reason for asking the Romulus Chamber of Commerce to help organize the attendance for the conference.

Helping organize this first security conference are Doug Baum, president of the chamber, Charles W. Hazen, director of planning and community development, Ptl. Charles Hassler and Lt. James Haile of the Wayne County Sheriff Department.

On Nov. 1 the sheriff's department will exhibit a wide array of protection devices in the municipal building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

Invitations to the conference have been sent to area businessmen and establishments urging them to attend.

Benefit attended for handicapped

A benefit dinner dance for Miss Lee Parker, who was recently chosen queen for the Detroit Chapter of the National Association for the Physically Handicapped, was held recently at the country Inn, located at 314 Sumpter Rd., Sumpter Township.

The proceeds of the Oct. 13 dinner dance will go toward providing equipment for the physically handicapped for their wheelchair sports game and any other assistance that is needed for the handicapped.

Music at the benefit dinner dance was provided by a brewing company and Doris French, known as "Big Mama Dee" provided a floor show. Election of the state queen will be held in April in Ann Arbor.

Don and Virginia Smith, owners of the Country Inn, donated their business site for the event, where a capacity crowd was entertained and donations accepted.

Mary Pickford movies to be shown at museum

For the first time in 40 years, the films of Hollywood's first super-star, Mary Pickford, will be shown in the Midwest on weekends from Nov. 5 through Dec. 5 at the Henry Ford Museum Theater.

Call it nostalgia or call it "camp", the films selected personally by Miss Pickford represent what moviegoers flocked to theaters to see, knowing "America's Sweetheart" would always triumph over evil.

When Miss Pickford bought the negatives to all her early movies, she had planned to have them destroyed. Her husband, Buddy Rogers, and friend Lillian Gish, persuaded her to change her mind, leading to the exclusive showing in this area of these films at the museum theater.

Today's audiences will find movie history carefully preserved in these reels. The period from early one-reel silents through the introduction of sound is represented.

In the museum's "Mary Pickford Film Festival: A Restrospective Tribute" the one-reelers being offered date from 1910-1913. The nine full length features, dating from 1917-1929 include: "The Poor Little Rich Girl" (1917), "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" (1917), "Stella Maris" (1918), "Daddy Long Legs" (1919), "Pollyanna" (1920), "Little Lord Fauntleroy" (1921), "Sparrows" (1926), "My Best Girl" (1927) and "The Taming of the Shrew" (1929).

For advance ticket information, write Mary Pickford Tribute, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich. 48121, or call 271-1620, extension 306.

Head start participants at nutrition workshop

By TRUDY KETELHUT
Daily Eagle Staff Writer

Sixty women sat around three work tables, variously whipping cream, cutting out paper cow puppets and con-juring up a new peanut butter-chocolate drink.

They were participating in an in-service training workshop organized by the out-Wayne County Head Start program and sponsored by the Dairy Council of Michigan. The workshop was held Friday at Tomlinson School in Inkster.

The morning session was devoted to nutrition, with the afternoon slated for a curriculum workshop devoted to exploring the British infant school theory of education.

Teachers, aides and cooks from eight out-county school districts with Head Start programs — Inkster, Wayne-Westland, Westwood, Sump-ter, Highland Park, Wyandotte, Ecorse and Romulus — attended the first of six planned workshops during the school year.

The nutrition workshop was designed to provide teachers with new and interesting ways of tying nutrition into the Head Start curriculum, according to Mrs. Shirley Ward, health coordinator for the out-Wayne County program.

Head Start is a program developed to orientate disadvantaged four-year-olds to the academic world, preparing them for better success in school experiences.

According to Mrs. Ward, nutrition is emphasized in the program both to provide children with the basic health requirements and also as a teaching method to encourage children to acquire a taste for a variety of foods.

"We also consider the psychology of four-year-olds' eating habits. We want to emphasize that meal time is a happy situation. It's best to create a happy atmosphere before they come to the table and not to place so much emphasis on table manners."

"Children that young shouldn't have to concentrate so much on manners but rather on eating a variety of foods," Mrs. Ward explained.

Currently, there are 444 children enrolled in the out-Wayne County Head Start program, said Jerome Falwell, child development director.

Teachers and aides involved in the program take what they learn through practical ex-perience and workshops and pass the knowledge on to parents.

According to Falwell, there must be a good working relationship between teachers and parents with an abun-dance of feedback in both directions for Head Start to succeed.

The British infant school, sometimes referred to as the British open school, was discussed during the af-ternoon. Three consultants from Kalamazoo shared their own experiences in using the technique and discussed its implications for Head Start.

The theory of the open school is based on a relaxed manner of teaching in which children of various ages are mixed in the same classroom and each child works on an individual level. The teacher doesn't represent an authority figure to the child, but rather acts as a guide in educational explorations.

Each child is allowed to work at his own speed, and often the older children help the younger. The classroom is organized as a series of small workshops in a variety of curricula.

EUROPEAN MUSICAL TOUR PARTICIPANTS — Barry Sutcliffe of 8812 Hannan Rd. and Eileen Heath of 45963 Ecorse Rd., Belleville High School seniors, were participants in European musical tours sponsored by two different organizations. Sutcliffe, a singer, traveled with the Musical Youth International, and Miss Heath with the Youth for Understanding Wind Emsemble.

County of Wayne, Michigan

ORDINANCE NO. 11-N

AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE to amend Ordinance No. 11, as amended, of the Township of Sumpter entitled:

An Ordinance to Establish Districts in the Township of Sumpter To Regulate The Use of Land and Structures Therein; To Regulate and Limit the Weight, the Area, the Bulk and Location of Buildings; To Regulate and Restrict the Location of Trades and Industries and the Location of Buildings Designed for Specified Uses; To Regulate and Determine the Area of Yards, Courts and Other Open Space; To Regulate the Density of Population; to Provide for a Board of Appeals, and Its Powers and Duties; and To Provide a Penalty for the Violation of the Terms Thereof.

IT IS HEREBY ORDAINED by the Township Board of Township of Sumpter, Wayne County, Michigan:

Section 1. That ARTICLE XVI Excavations, Soil and Sand Removal, Section 16.4 is amended to read as Follows:

Section 16.4 FEE. A permit fee of $300.00 shall be paid to the Township Clerk at the time of filing the application and on the 1st day of April each and every year of operation, and a receipt issued showing the deposit of said fee. Upon the issuance of the permit the fee shall be paid into the General Fund of the Township. Upon the denial of the permit, said fee shall be returned to the applicant less the sum of $50.00 as and for the reasonable expenses incurred by the Township in the processing of the application.

In addition to the above fee for the permit, the operator, owner or owners shall pay an additional license fee of $.005 (1/2 cent) per yard of material removed from the premises, provided that said license fee shall not be less than $100.00 per year exclusive of the annual permit fee paid by said owner or operator.

The operator or owner shall, during the month of March, provide the Township with a certified statement from a reputable accounting firm as to the quantity of material removed from the said premises. Provided, however, that said amount shall be reduced by any sand or other forms of earth purchased by the Township.

Section 2. That ARTICLE XVI Excavations, Soil and Sand Removal, Section 16.6 is amended to read as follows:

Section 16.6 BOND REQUIRED. There shall be a minimum bond required on each application of a bond running to the Township of Sumpter with good and sufficient sureties acceptable to the Township Board, in the penal sum of Five Hundred Dollars for each acre or fraction thereof, or Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars, whichever is less, conditioned upon prompt and complete compliance with all of the provisions of this Ordinance and of any and all rules and regulations adopted by the Township Board pursuant hereto.

The Township Board may increase the minimum bond and require the applicant or the landowner or both to post an additional cash or surety bond for the faithful performance of their undertakings in an amount set by the Board after considering the scale of the operation, the cost of rehabilitating the property upon default, engineering costs, court costs, attorney fees and other reasonable expenses.

Section 3. That ARTICLE XVI Excavations, Soil and Sand Removal, Section 16.11 (C) is amended to read as follows:

Section 16.11 Excavations for Irrigation, Ornamentation and Artificial Lakes or Ponds.

(C) The permit fee for an irrigating, decorative, or landscaping pond shall be $20.00 per year per pond, and shall be payable on the 1st day of April each and every year that said pond or ponds shall be in existence, and a receipt issued showing a deposit of said fee. Upon the issuance of the permit the fee shall be paid into the general fund of the Township.

Section 4. That ARTICLE XVII, LAND FILLS, Section 17.4 of Ordinance No. 11, as amended, be and the same is hereby amended, to read as follows:

Section 17.4 FEES. A permit fee of $300.00 shall be paid to the Township Clerk at the time of filing the application, and on the 1st day of April each and every year of operation and a receipt issued showing the deposit of said fee. Upon the issuance of the permit, fee shall be paid into the General Fund of the Township.

Upon the denial of the permit, said fee shall be returned to the applicant less the sum of $50.00 as and for the reasonable expenses incurred by the Township in the processing of the application.

In addition to said permit fee, the permit holder shall pay an additional license fee of $.50 (fifty cents) per truck for each truckload of materials or rubbish, originating outside of the territorial limits of Sumpter Township dumped in any such sanitary land fill, said fee to cover the costs of inspecting, supervising, and policing the operation of sanitary land fills, to enforce the provisions of this Ordinance and other Ordinances pertaining to the same subject and to the protection of the sanitation, health, and welfare of the inhabitants of the Township.

The said license fee shall apply to each truckload and to each trailer load as if separate vehicles, and shall be payable monthly, without necessity of demand to the Township Clerk for deposit in the General Fund of the Township.

The number of truckloads dumped in such sanitary landfill shall be submitted by the permit holder (licensee) to the Township Board with the monthly payment and if the Board is not satisfied that the numerical count is accurate the permit holder shall have the burden of establishing the accuracy of the Count to the satisfaction of the Board; provided, however, that the Township Board, may after hearing an investigation and with the consent of the licensee establish an average monthly licensing fee with such licensee at a flat sum based upon the average number of truckloads dumped per month, and such flat rate shall constitute the license fee payable until such time as either the licensee or the Township Board, by first class mail, requests review of the rate or termination of the average monthly rate.

Failure to make prompt payment of the license fee shall be grounds for the issuance of a "stop order" by the Inspecting Authority and for immediate revocation of the permit to operate a sanitary land fill without regard to the procedures for revocation set forth in Sections 17.9 and 17.10 of this Ordinance No. 11. Provided, however, that permits issued for land fills consisting only of natural soil or earth shall not require payment of the permit fee or the license fee herein set forth.

Section 5. That ARTICLE XVII, LAND FILLS, Section 17.6 is amended to read as follows:

Section 17.6 BOND REQUIRED. There shall be a minimum bond required on each application of a bond running to the Township of Sumpter with good and sufficient sureties acceptable to the Township Board, in a panel sum of Five Hundred Dollars for each acre or fraction thereof or Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars whichever is less, conditioned upon prompt and complete compliance with all of the provisions of this Ordinance and of any and all rules and regulations adopted by the Township Board pursuant hereto. Provided, however, that in the event that a sanitary land fill is carried on in conjunction with the removal of top soil, the bond so required under Section 16.6 shall be sufficient for the minimum compliance of this Section.

Further provided, however, that permits issued for land fills consisting only of natural soil or earth shall not be subject to the minimum bond requirement and shall be exempt unless the Township Board shall specifically require a bond and specify the amount of the bond.

The Township Board, however, may increase the minimum bond and require the applicant or the landowner or both to post an additional cash or surety bond for the faithful performance of their undertakings in an amount set by the Board after considering the scale of the operation, the cost of rehabilitating the property upon default, engineering costs, court costs, attorney fees and other reasonable expenses.

Bond requirements specified by the Township Board shall continue in the amounts originally specified upon the permits renewed from year to year unless reviewed and changed by the Township Board.

Section 6. That ARTICLE XXIV BOARD OF APPEALS Section 23.19 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 23.19 VARIANCE IN RULES AND REGULATIONS. Where there are practical difficulties or unnecessary hardships in the way of carrying out the strict letter of this Ordinance, the Board shall have the power in passing upon appeal, to vary or modify any of its rules, regulations or provisions relating to the construction, structural changes in equipment, or alteration of buildings or structures, or the use of land, buildings or structures, so that the spirit of this Ordinance shall be observed, public safety secured and substantial justice done.

A fee of $50.00 shall be payable to the General fund of Sumpter Township upon application for any variance in the said rulings, regulations, changes, or uses by a private party to the Board of Appeals.

Section 7. That ARTICLE XXIV MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS Section 24.2 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Not less than 20 days' notice of the time and place of such hearing shall also be given by certified mail to each electric, gas, pipeline and telephone public utility company that registers its name and mailing address with the Township Zoning Commission for the purpose of receiving such notice, and to each railroad operating within the district or zone affected.

The Township Board shall conduct a public hearing only upon a written request (certified mail) by a property owner and upon payment of a fee of $300.00 which fee shall be payable to the General Fund of Sumpter Township.

A fee of $300.00 shall be payable to the General Fund of Sumpter Township upon application by a private party to the Township Board or to the Township Planning Commission for a re-zoning of any parcel of land within a given district.

High income, low nutrition makes for a paradoxical pair

In recent years - with per capita income rising - Americans have allowed a significant decline of certain nutrients in their diets. Vitamins A and C have suffered most.

Why should an increasingly affluent society experience a nutrient shortage? According to Anita Dean, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, there are several reasons:

At the turn of the century, Americans produced about 25 percent of their total food supply at home. The bulk of these garden products were dark green and deep yellow fruits and vegetables - rich in vitamins A and C. But urbanization caused a decrease in home production, Mrs. Dean points out, and a substitution of less nutritious food forms.

—Since World War I, there has been a decline in the amount of home-prepared foods, and an increased use of convenience foods. In choosing the "fast foods," (including hamburger, soft drinks, crackers and snack foods) the consumer often neglects those which are rich in vitamins.

—More and more people are eating out, and the growth of quick-stop drive-ins has been phenomenal. How often do those quick lunches at the corner hamburger joint include a salad or piece of fruit?

—The fast pace of urban, and even some rural, lives - as well as a new "calorie consciousness" - has led to habitual meal-skipping.

Teenagers, especially, become victims of the "too busy" or "not hungry" syndrome, the specialist says.

—Food has lost priority in the family budget, which is often rearranged to accommodate a second car, or a special vacation. As less money is spent on food, less importance is attached to food values, and less time spent in preparation.

—There is a downward spiral of supply and demand in terms of certain nutrients, Mrs. Dean explains. The sweet potato (an important source of vitamin A) is an example. Centralized production decreased the supply in certain areas and, as a result, eating patterns changed. Sweet potatoes were replaced by other foods with less vitamin A value.

—Over the past decade, "best buys" in supermarkets have included foods such as eggs and poultry as prices of these foods declined. At the same time fresh fruit and vegetable prices were rising.

"Hunting syndrome" requires much attention

In autumn the ghost of Nimrod, the mighty hunter, stirs in many a husband's heart. Off he will go to the forest with visions of filling the larder with game. Back he will come, perhaps empty-handed, but certainly to fill your sympathetic ears with tales of muscle strains, cuts, bruises and various other misfortunes that befell him.

The wife who early recognizes her husband's "hunting syndrome" can offset many of these problems if she would follow this five-point plan:

- 1) Insist that your husband go for a medical checkup; 2) Have him get an eye checkup; 3) Recommend some preconditioning exercises; 4) Provide him with an adequate medical kit; 5) Arrange for him an afternoon before the hunt at a local rifle range.

The medical checkup should include, of course, a cardiogram, particularly if he is over 40. It will also provide him with guidelines for the preconditioning exercises necessary to develop strength and endurance for "the chase."

In addition to confirming that his eyesight is sound, your eye doctor should check whether your husband is "right-eyed" or "left-eyed." Briefly, in right-handed persons, the left side of the brain is dominant because the nerve fibers from the left cerebral hemisphere cross over to the opposite side at the base of the brain. Since the cross-over is not complete, many of us have varying degrees of ambidexterity.

A simple "home" test can be done by pointing your finger at an object across the room - keeping both eyes open. With the finger still pointing at the object, close the right eye only. If you are "left-eyed" the finger will stay on the object; if you are "right-eyed" it will move to the right of the object. In crowded hunting areas, the difference could be crucial.

Pre-conditioning exercises should be planned with two goals in mind: strength and endurance. A regime of push-ups, toe-touching, deep-knee bends and sit-ups is excellent - as is jogging or running in place. Bear in mind that repeating an exercise many times with a light load (weights or a heavy book) will increase endurance, whereas fewer repetitions with a heavier load produce muscular strength.

A good basic medical kit should have: a first-aid manual; electric bandages or surgical tape for binding sprains and strains; an antiseptic for minor cuts; a tube of petroleum jelly for burns and chapped lips; gauze roller bandage; an antacid to relieve stomach distress brought on by his own cooking; aspirin to relieve headaches and aching muscles, and an insect repellent.

Also include tweezers, a small scissors, a few sterile bandage compresses - an a shrill whistle! The latter should be used, together with preplanned signals, when your husband, the hunter, gets separated from his party.

If your community has such a range, urge your husband to spend some time there.

Check your local police department - some make arrangements during hunting season to open their target ranges to sportsmen. In some communities, hunting courses are even supervised by off-duty enforcement personnel.

Of course, this five-point program doesn't guarantee your Nimrod will come home laden with bear. But it will ease your anxieties about his perparedness and, as a result, send your hunter forth in high spirits.

And, who knows, this time he may actually come home with something more in the bag than dirty laundry!

Detroit's Synanon is looking for 300 drug addicts who want help.

Township will buy trucks

The purchase of two new fire trucks with special aerial and rescue equipment at a cost of $109,000 has been approved by the Van Buren Township Board.

Van Buren Trustee Joseph Hogan, who is also the township fire commissioner, recommended the purchase of the two fire engines.

The new equipment will be used to fight apartment fires in the township. The trucks will run on diesel rather than gasoline engines and the pumps will deliver up to 1,250 gallons of water a minute.

Hogan also recommended the new engines be purchased from the American LaFrance Co. of Elvira, N.Y.

School members assigned

Three members of the administrative division of the Van Buren Public School District have been appointed to the Professional Study Committee for the 1971-72 school year by the Van Buren Board of Education.

Appointed to the committee were School Superintendent Dale E. Kaulitz, Elementary School Supervisor Robert W. Gray and Belleville High School Principal John F. Ford.

The committee is composed of administrators and teachers. Its job is to work out mutual problems which arise during the school year.

Schaefer Rd., is beginning the first phase of a drive which began Oct. 19 and will run through Nov. 17, in which it hopes to recruit 300 addicts. An additional 200 addicts will be sought by Dec. 31.

No money is required, except plane fare to get to Synanon's headquarters in California, according to the head of Detroit Synanon.

"This is not only hope for the many addicts who have been unable to get help in the Detroit area, but a saving to the community of approximately $15 million in thefts," said Bill Marshall, head of the Detroit Synanon House and himself an ex-addict.

"341-2944 is the new life-line for Detroit area addicts" he said. Now a 24-hour operation, anyone interested in kicking his habit is invited to call Synanon's Detroit number, 341-2944.

Contrary to the usual method of Synanon operation, no donation will be asked. "Hopefully, each addict will be able to arrange the cost of his own transportation to California, but if not, Synanon will assist" said Marshall. The offer is open to every race, color, religion, creed, sex and national origin.

"What can an addict expect? A fantastic new life-style in which each resident can become a Synanon stockholder.

Congressmen join together to appeal court busing decision

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has joined with six other Detroit-area congressmen, representing both political parties, in a bi-partisan effort to assure the appeal on behalf of suburban school districts of a case currently before the U.S. District Court in Detroit, in which the annexation of suburban school districts to the Detroit School District is being urged.

The seven congressmen also sent joint letters to Gov. William G. Milliken, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley and the State Board of Education, who are parties to the present action, asking them to announce their intention as the parties representing the suburban school districts as well as Detroit, to appeal any order requiring annexation or elimination of suburban districts.

At the same time, the seven legislators co-sponsored a bill in the House of Representatives to assure that any such court order would be stayed pending a final decision on any appeal or appeals filed in the case, or until the U.S. Supreme Court had an opportunity to rule on the case, officially known as Bradley et al v. Milliken et al.

The Romulus Jaycees, in conjunction with radio station WXYZ, is publishing a list of suggestions designed to make Halloween a happy and safe outing for area children.

The suggestions became necessary because of a few unthinking individuals, whether by maliciousness, prank or otherwise, intentionally harm children.

All Romulus elementary schools and the junior high school have been notified by letter of the suggestions.

Distribution of the timely tips (5,000 copies) will be distributed today (Wednesday) to all school children with the approval of Assistant Superintendent William E. Jakad.

To reiterate the suggestions:

Milliken case," Congressman Ford said, "and hence are the only ones who presently have the standing in the case to appeal any court order."

"The suburban districts, even though their continued existence is at stake if such an order results from the suit now in progress, have not yet joined in the suit and their only representation is by the Governor, the Attorney General, and the State Board of Education," Congressman Ford pointed out.

The letters to the state officials read as follows:

"In our opinion, the Detroit schools' decision represents a significant extension of existing constitutional doctrine and ought to be considered by the highest court in the land. Yet, the suburban school systems are not parties to the case and the state defendants, which the District Court has held are representing the interests of suburban schools, have given no indication of any intention to appeal the District Court decision."

Hunting season greeted coolly by many farmers

Farmers are nervously awaiting the autumn army of Michigan hunters, viewing them as threats to livestock and property, says a State Agriculture Department official.

Nearly a half-million hunters will be stalking private farms and woodlands for deer, small game and birds. Agriculture department spokesmen say most hunters will obey the rules, but a few could spoil it by shooting holes in water tanks, farm houses, cows and a gallery of other nongame targets.

Michigan has nearly 12 million acres of farmland, much of it used for hunting. Over 60 per cent of the state's 20 million acres of woodland is privately owned, mostly by farmers.

"Hunting on private property is a privilege, not a right," says B. Dale Ball, Agriculture Department director.

"Many farmers share a love of hunting, and welcome suburban sportsmen to their land, as long as hunters don't damage crops or live stock," Ball says.

John Calkins, the department's chief deputy director, feels the welcome may be growing cooler by the year, especially in densely populated areas.

"More farmers find themselves adjacent to high population areas where they get a lot of strangers," Calkins says. "They are considering their equipment, tractors, potato diggers in the field and their vulnerability to vandalism."

Calkins, 50, was raised on a farm in Oakland County and now owns a tree farm in Manistee County. He doesn't post his land against hunters.

"When I was growing up I was in a small town. Everybody knew everybody else and we had mutual respect," Calkins recalls.

"It's not the same now. The pressure on the farmers is terrific. They are right next to Kensington Park near Detroit and they are getting a lot of requests to hunt. Many people are using the farms without asking. Many farmers are to the point where they will post it and say 'No'."

Although most Michian farmers don't post their land, they are apprehensive about possible property damage as the number of hunters grows, especially around metropolitan areas.

The damage has been done by "Sunday shooters," hunters Calkins describes as "the guys who drink their beer and shoot up the bottles, leaving all kinds of broken glass around. The guys who blast away at watering tanks, cut fences and drive over crops, target practicing on barns and valuable trees."

He has several suggestions for good hunting and good will:

—Ask permission to hunt on a farmer's land and take the trouble to know the boundaries of the property.

"If a farmer is willing to give permission, he may also tell you where the good hunting is. That's a lot better than worrying about if he's
